Soviets push Gulf mediation

NICOSIA (III — Soviet Departy Foreign Minister Vindinsir Petrovsky, whose country has effected in mediate in Iran-Iraq peace talks, is visiting from to discuss Gulf peace and other losses, Tehrm Radio mid Monday. Foreign Minister spottennius Martens Surumil said Petrovsky would give a discussor from Foreign Minister Edward Sherardnadze to Iranian Foreign Making All Alber Pelepul when they met. "All matters of mount interest would be in the agenda," Surmed told Renters when asked if Pelepula, who arrived in Takean Sunday, would discuss Monow's mediator proposal. I was and trag, dendiocked in U.N. mediated peace talks which followed their August 1988 counties, welcomed in January mother by the Characteristics to the August 1988 counties. offer by Sheverdandae to host a meeting of their foreign ministers in Miler Dy Saverenness to near a meeting or toer torong manuscra in Memory. The Soviet Union's position as a permanent member of the U.N. Schnitz Council and its good relations with both Iran and Iraq were need memoriant advantages to be role at mediator.

Jordan Times

An independent Arab political daily published by the Jordan Press Foundation جوردان تايمز يومية سياسية تصدر بالإنجليزية عن المؤسسة الصحفية الاردنية والراي

Group claims attack on Israelis

BEIRUT (Agencies) — A Lebanese group said its fighters attacked Israeli troops and their Lebanese militia aliles in Israel's self-declared "security zone" in South Lebanese Monday. The Syrian Nationalist Social Party (SNSP) said its men had been locked in tank and rocket battles with Israell troops and South Lebason Army (SLA) militiamen for three hours in Taireh, a village eight kilometres from the Israeli border. "A goerrilla unit of the Syrian Nationalist Social Party — the unit of martyr Mohammad Steim — is carrying out a spectacular attack on the Zionist occupation army on the road of Bint Jbell-Kafra," the party said in a statement. It said the fighting began at 7.30 a.m. (0430 GMT) and Israeli warplanes were flying over the battle zone. The SNSP, a close ally of Syria, has been behind at least six deadly attacks against Israeli troops and the SLA since the Israelis set up the "security zone" in South Lebanou in 1985. According to Israeli sources SLA men killed one of the attackers and captured another onday. One SLA militisman was wounded in the clash, the sources said.

Volume 15. Number 4384

AMMAN TUESDAY, MAY 8, SHAWWAL 12, 1410

Price: Jordan 100 fils; Sandi Arabia 1.50 riyals; UAE 1. 50 dirhams

King to open ATF meeting

numerity de hington vic leaders the Cambe of war la cople care and some

at Mari

ctres.

ays

JUON

land (R) id tribut $

ohn Leiz

a content;

is bonce

s shot dex:

n-air dan

them Engl marked i~ ennon's 5-

Iging All 1

CTOWN job

n Drighi - widow yr nce of an етроо је

day ente

be bagg

part n

/ Christing

in the lin model

on is /isconsu (

o obce je.

magazine c

s convice

EDODET :

an elded:

ge for sea."

ied Lyn ister 🕬

on in cad.

e David Ir

guilty di ax evasion?

counts d :

ax returns .

her faller

$680,00° tzik fron ^{ia}

kes and

s. anong

d be stars

of 12 pm

$626,000 } er, Leid

ried in 🍱 volving alle

1 $397,000 eds 🌃

by Fine

d perione:

importati neod di

poset ver

ed like see

st-rate par on Rheils icago In

pus Posins nursday man day Jamas Chicar cric was

e Universi gathering.

ssertation '

ical and

e piece de manuscris

ar. Nest

∌XØÛ

, good

P) — TK:

ses of Itali

AMMAN (J.T.) - The annual meeting of the Arab Thought Forum (ATF) will open in Amman next Saturday under the patronage of His Majesty King Hussein and with the participation of delegates from various Arab states. The conference, which will be attended by His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan, will be held under the slogan "education in the Arab World during the 21st century." The meeting will review a general report for 1989 and hear speeches from the participants, all prominent scholars and scientists from Jordan and other Arab countries.

Mubarak's Moscow visit rescheduled

MOSCOW (R) - Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak's postponed visit to the Soviet Union. the first by an Egyptian leader in 18 years, has been rescheduled for later this month. TASS news agency said the visit, originally planned for March, would take place in mid-May, but gave no further details. Mubarak's visit was postponed because Soviet leaders could spare no time to see him amid a key session of the country's parliament, which extended Mikhail Gorbachev's powers as executive president.

Pakistan orders probe into blast

LAHORE (AP) - The government ordered an investigation Monday into the bombing of an express train in which 13 passengers died, and one official suggested India or Afghanistan might have been involved. No one claimed responsibility for Sunday's blast, which also injured 40 people. "I do not rule out the possibility of either an Indian or Afghan hand behind it." Railways Minister Zaffar Legiari told reporters hours after a twokilogramme bomb ripped through the first-class car of an express train bound for the southem port city of Karachi. Twelve people died at the scene Sunday. and one person died of massive miuries at a Lahore hospital Monday, authorities said.

Prominent Tamil politician shot dead

COLOMBO (R) — Motorcycle gumen shot dead a leading Tamil member of parliament and critically wounded his wife in the Sri Lankan capital Monday, military sources said. The two gunmen opened fire on the car of politirian Sam Thambimuttu as he and his wife Kala drove to the Canadian high commission (embassy) in Colombo to collect visus. Police said the identity of the gunmen was not known. Political sources said they were suspected members of the powerful Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eclam guesrilla group. Thambimuttu, a 58year-old lawyer, had accused the Tigers of abducting his wife and son for about four days

Antigua probes

TEL AVIV (R) - Officials from the Caribbean island of Antigua were arriving Monday to investigate a weapons shipment that ended in the hands of Colombian drug dealers, the foreign ministry said. A spokesman said Istael sold the government of the tiny state of Antigua and Barbuda Galil rifles and Uzi submachine guns in 1989 but Antiguan officials demied ordering or rece ing any weapons. The 500 weapons and ammunition, worth some $200,000 were recovered by Colombian government officials after Colombian druglord Gonzalo Rodriguez Gacha was killed by

French lawyer

BEIRUT (R) - Lebanese police for a French lawyer believed mis-

His Majesty King Hussein Monday confers with Saudi Crown Prince Abdullah Ben Abdul Aziz

120,000 under curfew in West Bank and Gaza

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM (Agencies) - The Israeli army confined more than 120,000 Palestinians to their homes in the occupied Gaza Strip and West Bank Monday and at least seven residents were wounded in clashes with soldiers.

In the West Bank city of Ramaliah, soldiers shot and wounded three Palestinians as demonstrators with stones battled troops in one of the fiercest clashes in the city.

Witnesses said hundreds of youngsters blocked streets with rocks and rained stones on a track driven by an Israeli, Reuters. reported. They also stoned an my jeep which arrived on the sceno firing tear-gas, rubber builets and eventually live ammuni-

The army detained three Palestinian cameramen working for the Visnews television agency, Worldwide Television News (WIN) and the Palestinian-run Al Quas Television Production, and a freelance photographer while they filmed the clashes.

Gaza Strip town of Rafah and the local teenager was shot and killed in clashes with soldiers on Sun-

Mohammad Khalid Musa was shot in the head during stonethrowing in the town, on the border with Egypt. Palestinians said the army shot and wounded at least 14 people Sunday during spontaneous demonstrations in the camp and town, which have a combined population of some 100,000, after news of the boy's death reached the streets.

dents of the Tulkarm refugee camp and the nearby village of Masha to their homes to prevent protests after a camp resident was shot dead Saturday in clashes with troops.

Stores and shops were closed in the town of Tulkarm Monday in army imposed a curfew on the on Gaza City's main street. They said another was wounded adjacent refugee camp after a by army gunfire in the Rimal local teenager was shot and killed quarter of Gaza City and a fourth in the town of Khan Younis.

> Meanwhile a top general stirred an uproar in the Israeli army Monday by suggesting Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir should fire senior commanders for failing to crush the 29-month-old Palestinian uprising.

Lieutenant-General Dan Shomron, armed forces chief of staff, reprimanded the officer, Major-General Moshe Bar-Kochba, for going public with his criticism in Israeli newspapers, a military official said.

It was one of the few disclosures of high-level army infighting about tactics since the uprising began 29 months ago.

Bar-Kochba, 60, adviser to the general staff on strategic planning, is a former head of southern command and won a citation for Residents said soldiers shot his role in tank battles during the and wounded two Palestinians 1967 war.

Jordan, S. Arabia stress need for Arab unity

King: No plan to shift summit from Baghdad

By a Jordan Times Staff Writer

AMMAN - There is no intention to shift the venue for a proposed extraordinary Arab summit from Baehdad. His Majesty King Hussein said Monday after talks with Saudi Crown Prince Abdullah Ben Abdul

"The (proposed) summit will be held in Baghdad and there is no intention whatsoever to change the location to somewhere else." the King said in a statement carried by the Jordan News Agency, Petra, after talks with Prince Abdullah, who arrived here earlier in the day from Bagh-

"I hope that Arab leaders will work to make this summit successful and I also hope that our brethren in Syria and Iraq will reconcile soon," the King told

The King said he had no knowledge that Saudi Arabia was seeking to convene a mini-summit of the leaders of Jordan, Iraq, Syria, Egypt and Saudi Arabia in a bid to settle Syrian-Iraqi differences and clear the way for a full-scale united Arab stand on dangers

The King emphasised the need to convene an extraordinary summit in the Iraqi capital during this month, and said the "grave challenges facing the Arab World warrant such a conference where the Arab heads of state can discuss means of fending off the looming dangers."

"Pan-Arab security will be the main item on the summit's agenda since the current challenges constitute a real danger to comprehensive Arab security," the King was quoted as saying by

The King said his recent talks with King Fahd of Saudi Arabia covered the current situation in the Arab World and means to bolster Arab solidarity. "Saudi Arabia and Jordan are in the forefront of Arab states striving to ensure Arab solidarity and promote understanding," he said. Petra said the King's talks with Prince Abdullah dealt with preparations for the proposed summit, particularly Sandi efforts to threatening Arab national security and the Arab Order."

Prime Minister Mudar Badran said the visit to Jordan by Prince Abdullah was within the framework of distinguished Jordanian-Saudi relations constantly promoted by the Saudi and Jordanian monarchs.

Badran voiced appreciation of Saudi Arabia's efforts to bring about solidarity among Arab countries and said Jordan would maintain coordination in efforts in this regard with Saudi Arabia.

Badran said Jordan was optimistic that the proposed summit would give further momentum to collective Arab action in the face of the present critical circumst-

In other developments related to the proposed summit:

- Syria restated its position that it would not attend a summit if held in Baghdad and instead called for an Arab foreign minisers' meeting to decide on an alternative venue.

-- King Fahd said he would pursue efforts to heal inter-Arab rifts despite the apparent setback in current create the opportune atmosphere to convene it and "crystallise a that it was seeking to hold a mini-summit prior to a full gathering of all members of the Arab League;

 The Iraqi foreign minister arrived in Cairo for talks with Egyptian leaders and reaffirmed that the summit would be held in the Iraqi capital. — Palestine Liberation Org tion (PLO) Chairman Yasser Arafat criticised unidentified Arab states for withholding response to his call for the extraordinary Arab summit.

In Damascus, Syrian officials said Syria had proposed that Arab foreign ministers meet in Tunis to find an alternative venue for the summit. The officials said Foreign Minister

Farouq Al Sharaa conveyed Syria's decision Monday to Arab League Secretary-General Chadli Klibi, who arrived in Damascus Sunday night. The Syrian Arab News Agency (SANA) quoted Sharaa as telling Klibi: "Fixing a venue for the summit without prior consultations... has cast a negative atmosphere in advance of the conference, and this certainly is not in the interest of the Arab Na-

Sharaa, SANA added, suggested that "the Arab League Council convene to conduct consultations on a convenient venue and date for the summit and to agree on the topics to be discussed at the forum.

(Continued on page 5)

Peres

into Likud

coalition

Labour leader Shimon Peres formula that may allow his party to enter a new coalition government with Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's hardline Likud of Labour-Likud alliance March 15, stating Shamir's refusal to accept U.S. Secretary of State James Baker's peace plan.

proposal of elections in the occupied territories.

Peres now offered Likud a compromise, saying it only needed to accept an unspecified Palestinian delegation, without agreement on the composition of the Palestinian delegation,' Peres said on Israel Radio. "They need to give a yes answer to the Palestinian delegation.'

delegation and without that I have no one to negotiate with," he added.

liminary talks between Israel and the Palestinians, but it says a delegation composed according to the American plan would be representing the Palestine Li-for the Cairo talks until the centre-left Labour called a noconfidence vote that brought down the coalition.

After Peres tried and failed to put together a new government, the role was passed on to Shamir.

mir, said that Likud would form a narrow coalition to govern the country before it considered a new partnership with Labour. "Mr. Shamir didn't want to break up the government, the unity fell apart on a yes or no to Baker," he said. "We don't understand, now we don't have to labour joining the coalition. Ariel Sharon, who as defence minister masterminded Israel's 1982 invasion of Lebanon, said the "unity" government was a mistake that should not be repe-

national Jewish government that is capable of finding solutions to the problems," Sharon said at a

Khalaf calls for 'firm' Soviet action to curb Jewish exodus KUWAIT (Agencies) — A have called for a U.N. Security minent Israeli attack on Iraq and Palestine Liberation Organisa- Council session in a bid to obtain tion (PLO) leader said Monday guarantees that Soviet Jews will the Soviet Union was not doing not settle in the Israeli-occupied enough to check Soviet Jewish territories and that Moscow has emigration to Israel and urged stopped direct flights to Israel. esident Mikhail Gorbachev to He take "a firm attitude" on the issue at his summit with U.S. President George Bush.

"The measures taken so far by the Kremlin are good, but stop short of curbing the Soviet Jewish emigration," said Salah Khalaf, second in command in Fateh, the main component in the PLO.

"We appeal to President Gorbachev to take a firm, courageous and principled stand on this question when he meets with President Bush so as to ensure that immigration by Soviet Jews does not endanger our land and existence," Khalaf told the Associated

"The protection of human rights should not be confined to the rights of the Jews, but should also apply to the Palestinian rights as well," he said. Gorbachev and Bush are scheduled to meet May 30. Khalaf noted that the Soviets non-binding resolution by the U.S. Congress recognising a "united Jerusalem" as the capital of Israel.

Press in an interview.

However, the U.S. administration has refused to recognise Jerusalem as the capital of the Jewish state. He warned that move could promote extremist tendencies of both the Arab and Israeli sides and impede the peace process." But he commended U.S. Secretary of State James Baker for rejecting the Israeli notion that the Jews have the right to settle in occupied areas in Arab

Jerusalem, the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. "Recent statements by Bush and Baker conform with the world's hostility towards the building of settlements in the occupied Arab territories," he

Khalaf warned against an im-

He said there was "a high probability" that because of the inability of Israel's main political blocs, Labour and Likud, to form a government, "the Israelis may launch an aggression on Iraq, making benefit of the anti-Iraq campaign led by the United States and Britain.

"The other probability is an Israeli attack on Jordan as a step towards realising the longstanding dream of a greater Israel and absorbing the new Jewish immigrants," he said. PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat said Monday the influx of Soviet Jews to Israel was making the situation in the Middle East even more dangerous. Arafat gave the warning in a message to a United Nations seminar on Palestine being held in Sweden.

"What makes the situation in the Middle East region more dangerous these days is the tremendous influx of Jewish immigrants from the Soviet Union and elsewhere," Arafat said.

Moscow puts up show of strength in Riga tanks drove through the Latvian a confrontation," she said. capital Monday at morning rush hour before a parliamentary session to form a new government to take the republic to full independence.

Tanks and other armoured vehicles rumbled through the streets of Riga around 8 a.m., ostensibly to prepare for a Victory Day parade Wednesday to mark the 45th anniversary of Nazi Germany's defeat.

Many Latvians saw the manoeuvres as a tactic by Moscow to intimidate them over Latvia's declaration of independence. "This morning's parade made people very nervous because they did it during rush hour, and we think the military did it on purpose," said Latvian radio journalist Janis Ozolas. "To stop transport at 8 a.m., I think they are trying to provoke us," said Ozolas reached by tele-The manoeuvres lasted only a short time and the military vehicles left the city centre soon afterwards. A spokeswoman for the parliament, which declared Latvia "an independent, democratic republic," Friday, said there were calls for local residents to stay away from the Victory Day parade. "People will boycott and just

MOSCOW (Agencies) - Soviet stay out of the way. No one wants

Latvia's president said the Kremlin had asked him to explain his republe's declaration of independence, and indicated Moscow's reaction might not be as harsh as reported earlier. The mood in the Latvian parliament was calm as President Anatoly Gorbunov announced be had received a telephone call from a Soviet lawmaker relaying a request from Mikhail Gorbachev for documents explaining the secession plan. Gorbunov did not give the name of the Soviet Gorbunov's announcement suggested that Gorbachev had not decided whether to impose economic sanctions against the Baltic republic, as reported Saturday by Latvian Communist Party chief Alfreds Rubiks.

Rubiks said he had spoken by telephone with Gorbachev. State and Communist Party Soviet media have not carried any official reaction from Gorbachev on Latvia's declaration, although reports on state-run radio and television quotd Rubiks Sunday and Monday.

The Latvians have sought to avoid the sanctions that Gorbachev slapped on their sister republic of Lithuania last month for declaring independence.

U.S. threat dominates WHO talks GENEVA (AP) — The annual assembly of the World Health Organisation (WHO) opened Monday in the shadow of a renewed U.S. threat to cut off all funds if the meeting approves the membership bid of the State of Palestine. A senior U.S. official said the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) was not entitled to full voting membership in the U.N. health agency because it did not meet internationally recognised criteria of statehood, including control of territory. "Our position remains that we are opposed to PLO membership in WHO," said John Bolton, U.S. assistant secretary of state for international organisation affairs.

More than 100 mostly Third World countries have recognised the Palestinian state since it was proclaimed by the PLO's legislative body in November 1988.

Bolton told a press confernce that the United States would be pressing to defer the Palestinian application indefinitely and was holding talks with other countries.

Western diplomats say the membership bid is unlikely to be approved by the 167-nation assembly as many Third World countries fear a U.S. funding police in December 1989.

Israeli arms

missing in Beirut

said Monday they were searching sing in Beirut, Marcel Paul Ceccaldi was last seen April 30 at the fashionable Bristol Flotel in west Beirut, they said. The lawyer, 43, booked into the hotel April 27 and disappeared three days later, one of the hotel managers told

17 killed in E. Beirut

BEIRUT (Agencies) -- Seventeen people were killed, including five haddling in an east Beirut shelter, and 31 wounded Monday as rival Christian forces pounded each other with rocket launchers and artiflery, security sources

General Michel Aoun and militiamen of the Lebanese Forces (LF) were using tanks, multibarrel rocket launchers and artillery in their latest fighting amid the houses of the city. One shell pierced an under-

They said troops loyal to ground bomb shelter, killing five people in the Aoun-held Al Fanar residential district, the sources said. Several apartment buildings and filling stations were set ablaze in the 800-squarekilometre enclave. The fighting marked a sharp escalation of the 31/2-month-old battle for mastery of the Christian community. The fatalities included a

Lebanese army captain killed when several rounds of artillery shells strayed from the embattled enclave and crashed in the western sector of the capital. Four civilians were wounded in west Beirut.

The thuds of exploding shells sent the population of both sectors of the city running to basements and bomb shelters for cov-

It was not clear what caused the flareup, and each side put the blame on the other. The clashes erupted at midnight (2100 GMT Sunday), subsided four hours later and escalated anew in the afternoon.

wounded, by police count.

The power struggle between Aoun's troops and irregulars of the Lebanese Forces coalition of militias led by Samir Geagea erupted on Jan. 30. So far 930 people have been killed and 2,463 month.

Bromerhood.

Women move to block male hairdresser ban

By Ghadeer Taber Jordan Times Staff Writer

AMMAN — A decision by the Ministry of Interior to ban male hairdressers from beauty parlours catering to women has sparked a controversy, prompting a group of women to start planning a campaign to pressure the government to reverse the decision.

The women's group met

Monday to plan a strategy to put pressure on the concerned authorities not to pass or enforce the decision by the ministry, according to one of the participants at the meeting. "The implications of the decision is not limited to banning male hairdressers in beauty salons for women," she told the Jordan Times. "This is a clear violation of civil liberties and a clear indication that the government is only listening to one political group in the country at the expense of others," she added. "What is the next step; will they ban male gynaecologists?" The decision by the ministry, disclosed in a local Arabic newspaper Sunday, is widely seen as a result of pressure on the government by Islamist groups, particularly the Muslim

One Lower House of Parliament member said: "The government is following a policy of appearement when it comes to the Muslim Brotherhood." The deputy, who asked for anonymity, said the issue was brought up in Parliament and was referred to the Lower House's administrative committee and had not yet been presented to a full House session for a vote. The House is now in recess and is expected to reconvene later this

Senator Leila Sharaf, who is a former minister of information. also expressed dismay at the decision, which sources say could adversely affect the breadwinners of up to 5,000 families. "The government appears to only respond to pressure so we have to pressure them too," Sharaf said.

The Muslim Brotherhood's parliamentary spokesman Abdul Latif Arabiyat welcomed the decision and countered the charge made by many lawyers and ordinary citizens that the decision was an infringement of civil liberties and a breach of the Constitution, which states all citizens are not a norm of our society. So this issue cannot be considered an infringement of freedom of choice," Arabiyat told the Jordan Times Monday.

The deputy also dismissed assertions that the ban will increase unemployment in the country, a major problem facing the Kingdom. 'We are for women's right and this decision will give women more job opportunities in one of their profession," he said. "There are more unemployed women than men, so this could be considered as a positive move for women and the economy." Several years ago, the cassation court, which is Jordan's highest court of law, heard a case in which the Municipality of Irbid banned male hairdressers from practising in the city. In its ruling, the court overturned the municipal decision saying that men were free to practise the profession.

Members of the hairdressers (Continued on page 5)

leans back

TEL AVIV (Agencies) -

bloc. Peres engineered the collapse

Baker's plan offered Palestinian-Israeli talks in Cairo as a venue to advance the Israeli agreeing to the Baker plan as "What is Baker? To reach an

The topic is the Palestinian

Likud has not ruled out pre-beration Organisation (PLO). Likud has stalled preparations

Avi Pazner, a top aide to Shasay yes to Baker?" Likud hardliners and Shamir's right-wing potential partners refuse to accept any possibility of "What is important today is a

Lahd: Hostage deal must include SLA men, Israelis

2 American senators call on Israel to free Arab 'hostages'

TEL AVIV (R) — Some 350 Lebanese Muslim prisoners, most held in southern Lebanon by a militia wholly dependent on Israel, have become a central issue in efforts to gain the release of more Western hostages held in Lebanon.

Two senior U.S. senators, Democrat Daniel Patrick Moynihan and Republican Robert Dole, speaking out publicly while the Bush administration remains diplomatically silent, urged Israel Sunday to free its Arab "hos-

But Israel insists its captives, mostly from the pro-Iranian Shi ite Hizbollah (Party of God) movement that is believed to control Lebanon's shadowy hostage-takers, will only be traded for six Israeli servicemen missing in Lebanon.

A senior Israeli official said recently the Jewish state would release "not one hair on the beard" of its Shi'ite prisoners until Israel's own men came

After releasing two American hostages, Robert Polhill and Frank Reed, last month Hizbollah and Iran have demanded Washington pressure Israel into freeing its Lebanese captives before the remaining 15 Western hostages are released.

The best known Shi'ite prisoner is Sheikh Abdul Karim Obeid. a senior Hizbollah cleric in South Lebanon who was snatched from his home by helicopter-borne Israeli commandos last July. Security sources say Obeid is one of the few prisoners held at a military base inside Israel. Most are kept by the South Lebanon Army (SLA) of General Antoine Lahd at a prison in Khiam in Israel's self-declared "security zone," an arm's-length arrangement by which Israel evades direct responsibility for their detention and denies the International Committee of the

NICOSIA (R) — Soviet Deputy

Foreign Minister Vladimir Pet-

rovsky, whose country has offered to mediate in Iran-Irag peace talks, is visiting Iran to discuss Gulf peace and other issues, Tehran Radio said Mon-

Foreign Ministry spokesman

Morteza Sarmadi said Petrovsky

would give a message from Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze to Iranian Porcién Minister

Ali Akbar Velayati when they

"All matters of mutual interest would be on the agenda," Sarmadi told Reuters when asked if

Petrovsky, who arrived in Tehran

on Sunday, would discuss Moscow's mediation proposal.

U.N.-mediated peace talks which followed their August 1988 cease-fire, welcomed in January an offer by Soviet Foreign Minister

Eduard Shevardnadze to host a meeting of their foreign ministers

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel's supreme court Monday admitted as evidence accounts from two Polish witnesses who could cast doubt on whether Ohio auto-worker John Demjanjuk was the sadistic Nazi death camp guard

The Ukrainian-born Demjanjuk, 70, was sentenced to death in April 1988 after being found guilty of operating the gas chambers

at the Treblinka Death Camp in Nazi-occupied Poland during Demjanjuk is appealing the sentence, and the first hearing is

"Ivan the terrible."

World War II.

The Soviet Union's position as in Moscow.

Iran and Iraq, deadlocked in

Red Cross (ICRC) access.

Lahd told Reuters at his headquarters in Marjayoun Monday that captured members of his own force and the Israeli servicemen

Western hostages. Israeli officials bristle when the prisoners, some captured in clashes in the buffer zone just north of Israel's northern border, are described as hostages.

must be included in any exchange of his Lebanese prisoners for the

'These people are terrorists involved in attacks on Israeli forces, the Israeli border or the SLA. They are not innocent civilans kidnapped by gunmen," one

Ariel Merari, an Israeli expert on Lebanese and Palestinian guerrillas, said he saw a disturbing shift in U.S. attitudes.

They are trying to present us and the Shi ite terrorists as in fact the same thing. The United States, as American policy is trying to present it, is no more than a poor victim of two wild sides in the Middle East," he

However the Israeli authorities accept that their captives, some held since before Israel withdrew its invasion force from most of Lebanon in 1985, are bargaining chips. They simply seek a different bargain. Above all the Israelis want to avoid any repetition of a 1985 deal with the Syrian-backed Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Com-

Israel then swapped more than 1,100 Palestinians for three missing soldiers. Seven hundred Arabs were allowed to stay in the a permanent member of the U.N.

Security Council and its good reltions with both Iran and Iraq

were seen as important advan-

Velayati said then a Soviet deputy foreign minister would visit Tehran to follow no the proposal, but the mission did not materialise and Iranian officials later said it was put off because the Kremlin was pre-occupied

Tehran insisted that the Soviet effort must be within the framework of the Security Council Resolution 598 on the Iran-

Apart from the ceasefire which ended eight years of fighting, the resolution calls for withdrawal of troops behind international borders, repatriation of 100,000 prisoners of war and other steps

Iran last week repeated its re-

But Iran's National Security

Demjanjuk has insisted that he is a victim of mistaken identity.

He has said that he spent most of the war in German prisoner-of-war or transit camps after being captured as a Red Army soldier.

high court Monday, appears to back Demjanjuk's claim. It stems from a married couple, identified in court as Mr. Dudek and Maria

Dudek, residents of Volka

the notorious "Ivan" carried the court.

The evidence, admitted by the Council and the parliament's

New evidence admitted in Demjanjuk trial scheduled for May 14.

jection of Iraqi calls for direct and towards a settlement.

separate peace talks.

with internal problems

Iraq conflict.

tages in its role as mediator.

Petrovsky in Iran to discuss Gulf peace

ter became leaders of the Palestinian uprising that erupted in Western intelligence sources believe the hostages are being held in the Syrian-controlled Bekaa Valley of eastern Lebanon to prevent any Israeli or U.S. operation to free them by force.

The sources said the two recently freed were only taken to Beirut shortly before their re-

The issue of Israel's missing servicemen complicates any hope

Three are believed to be in Hizbollah's hands — an airman shot down in 1986 and two infantry men ambushed in the security zone earlier that year. The other three, a tank crew missing since the 1982 Lebanon invasion, are believed to have been captured by Syria or Syrian-backed Palestinian fighters. Illustrating the complexity, one Western intelligence source said Israel abducted a South Lebanese Shi'ite militant, Jawad Csafi, eight months before it snatched Obeid in the belief that would pressure Hizbollah to free airman

Ron Arad. Arad was first held by the more moderate Shi'ite movement Amai, but his captor, Mustafa Dirani, defected to Hizbollah in 1987 and took the prisoner with him, the source said.

It turned out that Csafi, a Dirani supporter, was not a big enough bait to lure Hizbollah into a swap, the source said.

Although Israel declares it never deals with hostage-takers, there is a precedent for helping to free U.S. citizens. Israel freed some 700 Shr'ites and Palestinians in 1985 in three stages after Shi'ite hijackers freed 40 American passengers aboard a Trans World Airlines (TWA) jet in

Foreign Affairs Commission have held meetings over the past week to discuss a letter sent by the Iraqi government about the peace

Iranian media have reported no details about the letter which the Iranian News Agency

(IRNA) said was the first of its would consider any proposal on the implementation of the Resolution (598) and establishment

Tehran Radio, monitored in Cyprus, said Iran Monday orged

China, another permanent member of the Security Council, to press for an Iran-Iraq settlement.

bute to the implementation of Resolution 598 within the frameworks of the efforts of the U.N. secretary-general," it

quoted Parliamentary Speaker

Mehdi Karrubi as telling his visiting Chinese counterpart Wan Li.

last name Marchenko, not Dem-janjuk, Demjanjuk's attorney

Yoram Sheftel, told the court.

still was a resident of Volka

Okgrolnik. He told the Associated Press that she lived in a bare wooden shack and worked as a milk-maid. During World War II,

Dudek ran a bar and his wife entertained the guard Ivan at Dudek, who gave his account

years ago, has since died, pro-least several times, he said.

Sheftel said Mrs. Dudek, 73,

"We expect China to contrikind since the ceasefire.

of peace," he added.

neogitations.

Akbulut flies home after talks stall in Baghdad

Meanwhile Lahd told Reuters

he had suspended traditional releases of prisoners to mark holidays to end speculation that this was a payoff for the freeing of

Asked whether there was a chance of a deal to swap hostages

for SLA prisoners, who include

Palestinians, Communists and Hizbollah members, Lahd said:

"If it is only for the Western

Western detainees then there is a possibility to ... reach agreement

(SLA-held) people but maybe also prisoners in Israel," he said.

Land said four SLA men were nissing after armed men seized them more than 18 months ago.

Another five had disappeared and three or four civilians from South Lebanon had been kidnap-we would certainly reciprocate by measures facilitating (other) exchanges and also freeing a number of people," he said. He said the SLA currently held

300 people at its Khiam camp

three kilometres southeast of Mar-

The SLA released four prisoners last month to mark the latter part of the Muslim holy month of Lahd declined to name the missing SLA members on the ground that the International

Committee of the Red Cross

(ICRC) was working on their

Israel says six of its servicemen

"All these people have families and relatives who will not understand if we free prisoners for Western hostages but do not get their people out at the same time," Lahd said.

Kidnappers:

Parole move not enough to free Belgians

BEIRUT (R) — Kidnappers of four Belgians said Monday a parole recommendation for a Palestinian jailed in Belgium for a secure freedom for their hos

The Belgian News Agency Bel-

ga, quoting prison sources, said Monday Nasser Said could be paroled from his life sentence as early as July after the recommendation by prison authorities.

is not enough because it is not an official government decision," Walid Khaled, spokeman in Beirut for the Libyan-backed

Fateh Revolutionary Council

"We hope this proposal is met with a positive response by the Belgian government by immediately releasing Nasser Said

as a first step to end the Belgian hostage problem," he told Ren-

The Belgian hostages -

Emmanuel Houtekins, his wife

Godelieve Kets and their two teenage children - were aboard

a vacht in the Mediterranean

when they were seized in 1987.

the Belgian bostages, Khaled said: "They are in good health, they are given regular medical care and are provided with all

Belga said administrators of Louvain Prison regarded Said as having been a model prisoner their daily needs." during 10 years in jail.

Asked about the condition of

(FRC) led by Abu Nidal.

"It is a positive proposal but it

Sarmadi would not comment grenade attack on Jews was a its contents. "However, we | positive step but not sufficient to have gone missing in Lebanon. At least three are believed to be Ramadan, he added.

"If these people were returned hich would cover not only

"If it is for the SLA, Israeli and Western hostages.

hostages, then no.

BAGHDAD (AP) — Turkish Prime Minister Yildrim Akbulut flew bome Monday after talks with Iraqi leaders on economic cooperation and border security against Kurdish insurgents were stymied by a dispute over the

Iraqi officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the two sides agreed on a new trade and technical cooperation protocol, but failed to agree on major

Iraqi Oil Minister Issam Abdul Rahim Al Chalabi and Turkey's minister of state, Isin Celbisigned the protocol at a ceremony attended by Akbulut and Iraq's deputy prime minister, Taha Yassin Ramadan. The details were not immediately closed.

Akbulut was accompanied by a delegation of about 250 people, including 150 businessmen. He was seen off at Baghdad airport at the end of his three-day visit by Ramadan and other senior Iraqi

The Turkish leader had hoped to sign several economic agreements and negotiate a new border security agreement giving Turkish forces the right of hot pursuit into northern Iraq in their war against Kurdish guerrillas. A 1984 security pact expired last year. But Kurdish separatists in southeastern Turkey have recently stepped up their guerrilla campaign against the Ankara

Kurdish insurgents on the Iraqi side of the border have been fighting the Baghdad government for decades in a campaign for an independent bomeland in the mountainous north of the coun-

Despite the failure to negotiate new agreements, Iraqi officials said the talks were "fruitful and constructive" and said the two sides will conduct further discussions later. The main stumbling block was the Euphrates dispute. Baghdad demanded a guaranteed share of water from the river which originates in the mountains of eastern Turkey and refused to sign a security agreement unless the Turks met Iraqi terms on the Euphrates water.

The 2,300-kilometre river flows fore joining the Tigris River. which also originates in Turkey, to form the Shatt-Al-Arab Waterway that runs into the Gulf. Relations between Iraq and Turkey, its northern neighbour, soured in January when the Turks cut off much of the Euphrates flow for a month to fill the reservoir of the huge Ataturk Dam in southeastern Anatolia province. Sources close to the talks. speaking on condition of anonv-

mity, reported Sunday that disagreements soon emerged on the Euphrates issue and border

The Iraqis are pressing for an agreement that will fix flow rates for all the states along the Euphrates and want another bilateral treaty on sharing water from the Sources close to the talks said Sunday the Iraqis made it clear to the Turks that they were reluctant to renew the security accord. Relations were further jolted last week when Turkey returned to Britain a truckload of metal tubes destined for Iraq and seized on the Bulgarian border.

It was was third seizure of British-made metal tubes destined for Iraq in recent days. The others occurred in Britain and

As tensions rise, Israel fears loss of U.S. support

TEL AVIV .- The increasing tension in relations with Washington has deepened Israel's fear it may be losing the U.S. support that has underwritten its economic and military

"We haven't seen evidence any of this money is vulnerable," said, a senior diplomat in Tel Aviv. "But in two or three years, who

Concern emerged before the fall of the Israeli government in March and has grown since. Caretaker Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's drift to the right is alienating both U.S. officials and American Jews vital for securing.

That aid flows at a level undreamt of by any other countrymore than $650 annually per Israeli, American taxpayers pick up the bill for a third of Israel's military budget.

"There is a deterioration of support for Israel," U.S. Senator Robert Dole said in a series of warnings delivered during his visit last month to Israel.

By his estimate Israel is getting closer to $4 billion than the $3 billion usually cited - $1.8 billion in military grants and $1.2 billion for the civilian budget.

Israeli media were quick to note that other American politicians disagreed with Dole, the Republican Party leader in the Senate, but officials fear his views may reflect a fundamental shift in the once unquestioning U.S. sup-

"What he was saying was quite unprecedented," said a senior Western diplomat in Israel, who shared the widespread perception that Dole was speaking indirectly

· U.S.-Israeli friction has existed almost since President George Bush and his Secretary of State James Baker took office two years ago and decided to tackle the Middle East conflict.

Baker publicly pressed Shamir to seek peace with the Palestinians who have been in revolt against Israeli rule since December 1987. Shamir dug in his heels and refused in March to accept a U.S. plan for Israeli-Palestinian

Although both Israelis and Americans say the current aid level is secure, each divergence of Israeli and U.S. interests increases doubts.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Dole wants to cut aid to major recipients by five per cent and redirect it to emerging democra-cies. Even if he fails, the buying power of the aid is reduced each year by inflation.

Debate on aid falls into two categories — military, which both sides expect will remain strong, and economic, which could face

Close military ties established during the eight years of Ronald Reagan's presidency are likely to continue, especially as U.S. dependence on imported oil continues to rise.

"If the strategic relationship is important to the United States, to damage it is to shoot yourself in the foot," said Dore Gold, an expert on U.S.-Israeli relations at the Jaffee Centre for Strategic

Port calls by U.S. ships to Haifa rose steadily through the 1980s and the United States is considering pre-positioning military equipment in Israel for forces sent to the region.

"I see the strategic relationship as very strong," said Gold. He is much less optimistic about other aid. The political one is very problematic.

Israelis were angered by a recent article in the American magazine Newsweek that portrayed their rich living a life of jacuzzis, expensive cars and foreign travel. Israel's image in America is changing.

Despite slow growth and high inflation, Israelis are not suffering from conditions normally associated with foreign aid. Less aid would mean a lower standard of living, not poverty. -Israel's fears come as it is seeking extra money to settle the flood of Soviet immigrants, who reached more than 10,000 in

Israel wants the United States to guarantee loans of $400 million to house the immigrants but Washington wants proof the money will not be used to settle

Soviet Jews on occupied Arab While Washington waits for a new government to provide the assurance, Shamir's interim administration has embarked on more Jewish settlement of the occupied territories. The government crisis was triggered by Shamir's refusal to accept the U.S. proposal for Israeli-Palestinian talks. He has not moderated his views and is positioned to remain as prime minister in charge of a rightwing government Each shift to the right will provide ammunition to those in Washington who believe Israel's priorities are not the same as the U.S. goal of a calm Middle East.

Algeria shakes up state media, gives 2 dailies to ruling FLN

ALGIERS (R) — Algeria has shaken up its state media, promoting young reform-minded journalists to top posts and handing over the two morning daily newspapers to the ruling National Liberation Front (FLN):

. A council of ministers meeting Sunday night confirmed an announcement last year by FLN Secretary General Abdul Hamid Mehri that the French-language Al-Mondjahid and the Arabic ianguage Al-Chaab would henceforth be run by the ruling party. Opposition parties have unanimously denounced the move as a seizure of state property by the ruling party, which gave up its 27-year-old monopoly on political life last year. The FLN says it founded the papers and should keep them.

The papers have until now been run by the FLN-dominated government but not under direct party tutelage. The government has already leave and work for the opposition press on the state payroll for three years. A council statement carried by the Algerian News Agency (APS) promised to keep journalists from the state papers who wanted to announced new directors for the state radio, television and APS The appointments follow adoption in March of an information law that breaks the state's long monopoly on the media and sets up a higher information council, half composed of journalists, to regulate the sector. Tahar Ouettar, one of Algeria's most prominent Arabiclanguage novelists, was named managing director of the radio. A veteran of the country's war of known for leftist political views. Abdou Benziane, 46, a widely read editorial writer for the FLN weekly Revolution Africaine,

Mohammad Hamdi, 50, former editor of Revolution Africaine dismissed from the post last year after he wrote an editorial critical of the FLN, will assume the managing director's job at APS, held by Belkacem-Ahcene Djaballah since 1985.

The government also replaced the managing directors of the two state-owned afternoon dailies, Horizons in French and Al-Messa in Arabic, both of which have surpassed their morning counterparts in circulation in recent

Abdul Aziz Sbaa, 35-year-old editor of the liberal weekly Algerie Actualite, and Ali Draa of the youth weekly Al Wahda independence from France, he is were named to head Horizons and Al Messa, respectively. Kheireddine Ameyyar, 44, an Ajlo dospik ide i editorial writer at Revolution Africaine, was named managing was named managing director of director of Algerie Actualite.

Turkish-Cypriot ruling party keeps power

NICOSIA (R) - Turkish-Cypriots underlined their hardline stance on unity talks with Greek-Cypriots by handing the ruling National Unity Party (NUP) an emphatic general elections victory.

The NUP had won 54.5 per cent of Sunday's vote in the breakaway north of the island, 10 percentage points more than their main rivals, with 90 per cent of the votes counted by Monday afternoon. The result boosted Turkish-Cypriot leader Rauf Denktash. who won reelection as president two weeks ago, in his tough stance on unity talks with Cyprus. "This result has confirmed our people's common sense," said 1985.

Denktash wants selfdetermination for Turkish-Cypriots as a distinct community in any unified Cyprus. The island has been split since

Turkish troops occupied the northern third in 1974 after a short-lived comp in Nicosia engineered by the junta then ruling Greece. Only Ankara recognises the breakaway Turkish-Cypriot

The opposition Democratic Struggle Party (DSP), a three-party coalition, had been widely tipped to put up a closer fight Sunday.

Denktash, who used to be leader Its campaign focused on domestic of the NUP and has ruled with it issues including alleged corrupsince he became president in tion and economic mismanage-

> The DSP accused Denktash of failing to take his U.N.sponsored unity talks with Cyprus President George Vassiliou seriously.

The talks broke down in New York in February, with Denktash saying he wanted unity to be based on a bi-zonal federation and Vassiliou insisting all Cypnots are part of the same community.

The 160,000 Turkish Cypriots fear they could be dominated by the 600,000 Greek Cypriots in a unified state.

MARKET PRICES

Cairo (MS)

JORDAN TELEVISION Tel: 773111-19

PROGRAMME ONE

Programme review 18:09 18:05 19:10 rary in Arabic 19:45 20:60 20:30 23:00 PROGRAMME TWO 19:00 19:15 19:30 20:00 20:30 21:10 .. News in Hebrew The Nuclear Age

04; L) AC. 20
12.32	*	 (Sancise
16:12
19:25
20:52		 .,

CHURCHES
St. Mary of Nasareth Church, Sweet Tel. 810740. Assemblies of God Church, 632785, 685326. ~ St. Joseph Church Tel. 624590. Church of the Annunciation 637440. De la Salle Church Tel. 661757 Terrassum Church Tel. 622366 Church of the Annunciation 623541. Anglean Church Tel. 625383, 628543. Armenian Catholic Church 771331. Armenian Orthodox Church 775261. St. Ephraian Church Tel. 771751. Annuncian International Church 685326. Evangelical Latheran Church 811295. The Church of Jeans Christ of Lather Salna 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1

moderate. In Apaba.

CHURCHES
St. Many of Nazareth Church, Swellell St. Many of Nazareth Church, 632785, 685326. — St. Joseph Church Tel. 624590. Church of the Annunciation 537440. De la Salle Church Tel. 661757 Ferrasunta Church Tel. 662366 Church of the Annunciation 523541. Anglicam Church Tel. 62583, 225543. Armeniam Catholic Church 771331. Armeniap Orthodox Church 771331. Armeniap Orthodox Church 775261. St. Ephraim Church Tel. 771751. Annuan International Church 85326. Svangelical Latheran Church 111295.
The Church of Jesus Christ of Las Day Saints Tel. 815817, 654932.
WEATHER
Bulletin supplied by the Departmen

CHOKCHES
ry of Nazareth Church, Sweifiel 10740.
ioi40. Siles of God Church, Tel. i, 685326. ~
eph Church Tel. 624590. h of the Annunciation Tel.
Saile Church Tel. 661757 susta Church Tel: 622366 h of the Annunciation Tel.
en Cherch Tel. 625383, Tel.
sian Catholic Church Tel.
dan Orthodox Church Tel.
- brain Church Tel. 771751. n international Church Tel.
dical Letheran Church Tel:
tearch of Jesus Christ of Latter- sints Tel. 815817, 654932.
WEATHER
n supplied by the Department of ology.

,
Obserch, Tel.	· Min./m
624590.	Amman
ciation Tel.	Aqaba
CLILIDE ICI.	Deserts
661757	Jordan Valley
622366
ciation Tel.	Yesterday's high temperatur
RIBLION I GI.	man 25, Agaba 31. Humidity
625383, Tel.	Amman 17 per cent, Aqab
uz, 16.	cent.
hurch Tel.
	USEFUL TELEPH
Church Tel.
	NUMBERS
L 771751.
Charch Tel.	NIGHT DUTY
Church Tel:	AMMAN:
	Dr. Hisham Kansan
rist of Latier-	Dr. Khalid Abdul Qader
654932.	Dr. Munther Al Qureini
	Dr. Walid Al Masti
	First pharmacy
	Ferdows pharmacy
	Al Asema pharmacy

Okgrolnik, a tiny village near the former site of Treblinka. to Pollish authorities several years ago, has since died, pro-

The couple has claimed that secutor Michael Shaked told the

Jordan Valley 15 / 32	EMERGENCI
Yesterday's high temperatures: Am- man 25, Aqaba 31. Humidity readings: Amman 17 per cent, Aqaba 21 per cent.	Civil Defence Department Civil Defence Immediate Rescue
USEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS	Rescue Police 192, 6211 Fire Brigade
NIGHT DUTY	Traffic Police
AMMAN: Dr. Hisham Kansan 790286 Dr. Khalid Abdul Qader 795392 Dr. Munther Al Qureini 776258 Dr. Walid Al Masri 675485 Firas pharmacy 661912 Perdows pharmacy 778336 Al Asema pharmacy 623672 Al Salam pharmacy 637055 Nairoukh pharmacy 63705 Vacoub pharmacy 636730 Yacoub pharmacy 644945	Price Complaints Water and Sewerage Complaints Annuas Municipality Complaints Telephone Information (directory assistance) Overseas Calls Ceatral Amman Telephone Repairs
Shmoisani pharmacy	Abdali Telephone Repairs Jordan Television

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

Civil Defence Department 66111
Civil Desence immediate Rescue
Civil Defence Emergency	u
Rescue Police 192, 621111, 63777	2
Fire Brigade	8
Blood Bank 77512	41
Highway Police 84340	Z
Traffic Police 89639
Public Security Department 63037
Hotel Complaints 60580	0
Price Complaints 66117	6
Water and Sewerage
Complaints 89746	7
Ammas Municipality
Complaints 78711	1
Telephone Information (directory assistance) 12
Overseas Calls 01023	0
Central Amman Telephone
Repairs 62310 Abdali Telephone Repairs 66110	1
Abdali Telephone Repairs 66110	1
Jordan Television 77311	ī
Radio Jordan 77411	ī
Water Authority 68010	ń
Jordan Electricity Authority 81561	ž
Electric Power	•
CANCE POWER
	-

HOSPITALS

Khalidi Maternity, J. Ama 64428
Akileh Maternity, J. Ann 64244;
Jabel Amman Maternity 6423
Malbas, J. Amman
Palestine, Shmeisani 66417
Shmeisani Hospital 6691
September Prospital
University Hospital 8458
Al-Mussher Hospital 66722
The Islamic, Abdah 666127/
Al-Abii, Abdali 664164
Itelian, Al-Muhajreen 777101
Al-Bashir, J. Ashrafieh 775111/
Army. Marks 891611/
Queen Alia Hospital 602240
Assal Hospital 6741 ZARQA:
Zarga Govt. Hospital (09)9833
Zarqa National Hospital (09)9910
Ibn Sina Hospital (09)9867 IRBID:
Princess Basma Hospital (92)2755 Greek Catholic Hospital (92)2722
The Al Market Virginia (02)2/22
Ibn Al Nafoes Hospital (02)2471
AQABA:
Princess Haya Hospital (03)3141

FOR THE TRAVELLER QUEEN ALIA INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

This information is supplied by Royal Jordanian (RJ) information department at the Queen Alia International Airport Tel. (06)53200-5, where it should always be verified. Royal Jordania (Terminal 1) en (RJ) Flights

65:45 .	Sinesmore, Kutala Laurent (
GE:39	Singapore, Kusla Lumpur (Bangkok (Jeddab (
10:00	loddah (
10-00	Beghdad (
10-00	Aba Dhabi (
10-15	· A
14-20	Agaba (
10.35	Caro
1473	Moscat, Dubai (
(135)	Kuweit (
17:49	Montreal, New York (
18:45	Prankfurt, Vicana (
28:48	Tripoti (
21:45
22:44	Rome (
61-64	Paris (add)
87.48	Paris (add.) (
T44.10	Jedan (

Other Flights (Terminal 2) Kuwait (KU)

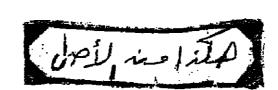

DEPARTURES Royal Jordanian (RJ) Flight

28:10

. Aqsba (RI) . Tripoš (RI) .. Rome (RI) Vienna (RI) Madrid (RI) Paris (R. Paris (add.) (R. Kawait (R.

..... Cairo (R. cain, Doba (R. Other Flights (Terminal 2) Kawak (KU

"
2	Upperflower price in £	L L_
?	Almonds	550 / 450
9	Apple	900 / 850
į)	Benna	ACD / 400
•)	Banana (Makammar)	400 / 300
	Bears	120 / 260
_	Broad beans	240 / 200
•	Cabbase	1001 60
	Carot	1001 30
_
2	Cucumbers (lever)	TAR / 190
2	Cucamhers (annil)	300 / 250
2	Cacambers (sensil)	400 / 350
2.	Egophot	100 / 100
2	ON 85	5480 7.440
2	Grapeiruit	260 / 220
2		300 300
2	Lettuce (per one)	150 / 100
ζ.	Lettuce (per one)	400 / 350
₹
Z		328 / 24n
₹	Uthor (dev)
{	Ozion (precu)	200 / 150
{	Orange	340 / 300
<	Onion (greep) Orange (Shamout)	450 / 408.
{
ς .	Pepper (bot)	186 / 120
,	Pepper (sweet)	180 / 120
	E VIEW CONTRACTOR	300 / 25D
_		· 1 500 -L 1000 -
}⊹:	3120	-400 Jan -
)	Spinach	220 / NO
)		300 L 240
)	Watermelon	250 / 200
٠	Watermelon
	- 	7
		: -
	1 To 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
		1.44

Heart Day race set for Friday

By Caroline Faraj Special to the Jordan Times

 $1 \leq c \leq \frac{1}{2} \left(\frac{1}{2} \left(\frac{1}{2} \log \frac{1}$ A STATE OF THE STA

> AMMAN (I.T.) - A Heart Day race will be held in Amman Friday under the patronage of Her Majesty Queen Noor Al Hussein to help raise funds for the treatment of heart patients in Jordan according to Dr. Adnan Hamawi. chairman of an organising com-

DOUG ONE

ed by a la

Affection that par is a tile to

IS and lon

image is

th and by

3 noned on aid in Ver standar

e a i

to settle

2720ts et 10,000 p

nited San $400 man

igram 🖟

Proof b

sed to see

upied Ag

Waltz for browle is ment of b

FISIS WAS BE

iens:

тором + alks. He is views and in as poe

fanger

ne right 🗧 to those slieve land

C Same as

Middle E

a,

di, 50, far on Africe

post last w litorial cit assume t

iob at A

:em-Aba

also repir

ors of the 100n di

and Al-Wa

f which 🗷

ning cont

יים ובו מע

2, 35-900-6

eral was

and Ails

iy Ai Was ead House

pectively.

eyyar.

ned make

ed on done.

leged com

d Denits!

ks with Offi ge Vassib down in ki

unity of an all federal string all () he same of dominate Cyption

..... Cziro (1865

RICES

85.

The race, he said, will begin at Amman Plaza Hotel at 10.30 a.m. and will finish at the University of Jordan where the Queen will distribute cups and awards to mee, women and children who come first in the race.

Altogether 20 awards are to be distributed to the competitors according to Hamawi who gave details about the race at a press conference Monday.

Hamawi said that each competitor will have to pay JD 1 for participation and for obtaining a shirt for the race. "Anybody

The race is organised by the Jordanian Chest and Heart Surgeons Society which held similar races in Amman in 1988 and Contributions collected in the two previous races, he said, have been financing the treatment of needy patients and the purchaseof medicine and medical examination for other patients,

"The society has contacted national organisations to get their support and their contributions and has now registered more than 700 participants mostly schoolchildren, a figure expected to reach 1,500 by Friday," Hamawi

The society, which was established in 1986, has not yet received any contributions for its efforts from hospitals and pharmaceutical firms in Jordan, the society has now established its headquarters near the University can take part in the race which is of Jordan," Hamawi said.

Swedisharchaeologists are active in Jordan

AMMAN (J.T.) Two Swedish started last year, is located just archaeological expeditions are south of Pella in the Jordan Val-Scandinavian archaeologists, among them the Swedish Professor Magnus Ottosson from Uppsala, arrived at Irbid to start digging north-east of the city in a small tell (hill) that could be an important Aramaic borde forti-

The second Swedish archaeological expedition in Jordan is led by Dr. Peter Fischer from the University of Gothenburg. Dr. the Jordanian Ministry of Culture Fischer's project, which was and National Heritage.

currently active in Jordan. This lev. Walls and other finds in the wook a team consisting of several area could be dated as early as the Bronze Age period (2500

This project is officially supported by the Swedish government through its Agency for International Technical and Economic Cooperation to an amount of JD 107,000 during four years. The projects are planned and carried out in cooperation with

Hospital opens in Rweished

RWEISHED (J.T.) - A 10-bed cialised medical services which hospital was opened here Mon- can be obtained at Mafraq. day to offer medical services to the local population and the travellers on the Amman-

Baghdad route.
The small hospital lighted some 100 kilometres from the border with Iraq has been pro- dered part of the government's vided with all essential equipment and staff, according to Dr. Naci Allouni acting director general of the National Medical Institution

Ajlouni, who inaugurated the premises, inspected the emergency unit, the operations theatres, the specialists section, the laboratories, the X-ray and pharmacy

Ajlouni said the Rweished Hospital would be an extension of the nearest government hospital located in Mafraq. "The new hospital will be useful not only for the local residents but for the travellers to and from Iraq and will be providing emergency services to victims of road accidents along the route," Ajiouni said.

In a statement carried by the Jordan News Agency, Petra, Ajlouni said the Rweished Hospital is small compared with the other hospitals in the Kingdom, provide it with all forms of spe-out," Shakhatreh said.

Following the inauguration ceremony, Ajlouni visited Mafraq Hospital and was briefed on its services to the Badia and eastern regions of Jordan.

Rweished Hospital is consicurrent efforts to develop the Hammad basin which includes Rweished and other areas close to the Iraqi, Syrian and Saudi Arabian borders. In March 1990, the Ministry of Agriculture and three local companies signed agreements to help carry out parts of a project for the development of the Rweished region. The agreements were for providing water pumps and operating two artesian water wells at a cost of JD 90,000. According to Mohammad Shakhatreh, director of the Hammad project, Jordanian firms have already drilled six artesian wells with an overall capacity of one million cubic metres of water annually, to provide sufficient water supplies for the local residents and the livestock. "Other civil works pertaining to the projects in Rweished, including two desert dams together storing up to 13 million cubic metres of water and a veterinary and therefore it is not possible to centre, have also been carried

Petra hosts third annual competition for horses

AMMAN (J.T.) — The third annual competition for the best- There were cash prizes up to kept and best turned-out house fifteenth place, and all 45 finalists was held at Petra for the tourist chosen beforehand from a total of horses last Friday morning. It was 350 horses received a rosette. to encourage owners to look after . In the absence of the Brooke their horses and improve the Hospital's Patron Her Royal standard of care of saddlery as Highness Princess Alia, judging well as horses. Points were was carried out this year by Briawarded for the cleanliness, safe- gadier Nimer Hmoud, director of ty and correctness of saddlery in addition to the cleanliness and condition of the horses.

by Mohammad Eisa Stairan with tion were the Brooke's organising his very smart chestnut mare, the second prize a bridle, was won by Saleh Ibrahim Al Falabat, and the third prize, JD 15, was won Sami Hassan, the Brooke Hospitby Ahmad Mohammad Mashala. al's director in Cairo.

police in Aqaba, who has racehorses in Amman and a stud of breeding horses in the Jordan The first prize saddle was won Valley. Attending the competisecretary in London Richard Searight, grandson of founder Dorothy Brooke, and Brigadier

WHAT'S GOING ON

EXHIBITION

- Art exhibition by Houris Ai Iraqi at the Royal Cultural Centre.
- * Exhibition of Jordanian national heritage at the Amman International Community College.
- * Exhibition of traditional industries and handicrafts displaying rugs, knit-wear, traditional costumes and brass works at Madaba Restbouse.

★ Documentary programme entitled "American Art in the Staties" at the American Centre - 6:00 p.m.

LECTURE

★ Lecture entitied "The Stratigraphical Importance of Some Microfossis for the Middle Triassic in Jordan" by Dr. Walld Sadeddin at the Goethe Institute — 7:00 p.m.

Sweden gives Jordan preferential treatment

AMMAN (J.T.) - The Swedish government decided in March that Jordan will, from May 1, 1990, receive preferential treatment within the Swedish scheme ences, Sweden's ambassador to Jordan Lars Lonnback announced here Monday.

"This means, in very simplified terms, that a very large number of Jordanian products that until now would have been subject to customs duties in Sweden can be imported by Sweden without such duties," the ambassador said at the opening of a two-day seminar on marketing Jordanian products in Sweden held at the Amman Chamber of Industry.

Lonnback said Jordan and Sweden need to learn from and SUDDORT each other in the fields of industry services, infrastructure, health care or social services, education and culture.

"Both countries need a bament of their economics including economic growth coupled with a safe environment, jobs and security for their people," the ambassador said.

However, the ambassador said dan had fallen from around JD 20 million to around JD 15 million. and Jordanian exports to Sweden have declined to JD 0.3 million down from JD 1 million.

"Sweden's interest in this seminar, he said, is to inform Jordanian exporters and businessmen about Swedish markets and how to sell to Sweden," the ambassacultural products to Sweden, business contacts will be created so that this country can buy Sweden's agricultural technology. of generalised system of prefer- Jordan, he said, can sell its pharmaceutical products to Sweden and host Swedish visitors.

The exchange, he said, can promote bilateral cooperation in culture, history, archaeology and launch lucrative and beneficial business deals between the two down Abu Hassan told the meeting that the present balance of trade with Sweden is heavily in Sweden's favour and the seminar was considered a step to belo adjust the balance through increasing the volume of trade exchanged between them and allowing Jordan to sell more to

"Sweden currently sells Jordan lanced and sustainable develop- JD 20 million worth of products. annually but buys only JD 20,000 worth of national goods, Abu Hassan explained. In six months from now a Jordanian trade delegation will visit Sweden to follow up the implementation of over the past three and a half resolutions and recommendations years trade from Sweden to Jor- of the present seminar," Abu Hassan added.

The seminar was opened by Minister of Industry and Trade Ziyad Fariz who said that the meeting comes at a time when the national economy of Jordan was witnessing deep transformation and when Jordan is trying to promote its trade relations with

"Jordan embarked on an eco-

He said when Jordan sells agri- nomic restructuring programme two years ago in order to promote exports, solve economic problems and boost its national industry," said Fariz in his address to the meeting.

'To carry out this programme the Ministry of Industry and Trade has started providing facilities for new industrial investments, offering incentives to industry, encouraging exports of industrial products and providing rotection to the local industries, The chamber's President Khal-Fariz pointed out.

> In the course of implementing this policy, he said, work is underway to promote the functions and the role of the Jordanian Commercial Centres Corporation (JCCC) which is entrusted with acting for Jordanian industrialists in promoting and marketing national products; it facilitates procedures for investors who are offered numerous incentives.

The minister announced that the Ministry of Industry and Trade has now embarked on establishing a national corporation to guarantee credit for exports.

Referring to the economic restructuring programme in Jordan, Fariz said it aims, among other things, at helping the country overcome the recurring deficit in the balance of trade and in the fiscai budget.

Swedish experts and Jordanian industrialists and businessmen are among those attending the seminar which is sponsored by the Swedish embassy and the Federation of Swedish Commerce and Trade and the Amman Chamber of Industry.

Rural development is closely linked to education — UNESCO

AMMAN (Petra) - A two-day ties development. "Such a school symposium was opened in Am-should not confine its services to man Monday to discuss the role of schools in developing local communities and linking education with community needs. The symposium, organised by the Amman-based regional office of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO) will review several working papers on education and its links to rural devolopment in the light of a pilot project being implemented at a girls' secondary school in the village of Marssaa in the Jerash district.

UNESCO representative and nonal office in essential role in local communi-providing education but should try to link basic education with the needs of the local communities through undertaking developmental activities designed to improve the standard of families in rural regions," Kazem said.

"UNESCO has now implemented a pilot project at Marssaa near Jerash, as a trial scheme which, if provd successful, could be adopted in other regions of the Kingdom," Kazem

He said the pilot school project Amman, Dr. Mohammad established UNESCO policy of serve as a model for all rural Kazem, told the meeting that a promoting education in rural re- schools which, he said, should be village school should have an gions of the Arab World.

The meeting was opened by munity.

Minister of Education and Higher Education Mohammad Hamdan who stressed that education is an essential tool for bringing about change in society. Any change in the educational system of a country, Hamdan said, should be coupled with changes in the performance and the objectives of schools especially in rural areas.

"The Ministry of Education. has given due attention to this concept in education and is now cooperating with 'UNESCO' to implement a pilot project at Marssaa school for girls," the minister said.

The Marssa closely linked to the local com-

Conference on fertilisers reviews Arab cooperation in the field

Federation of Chemical Fertilis- increase food production. ers Producers (AFCFP) opened its fourth meeting in Amman Monday to discuss matters related to coordination and cooperation among various Arab chemical fertilisers industries.

Several working papers dealing with the fertilisers industry, exchange of expertise, planning future projects and other affiliated topics will be reviewed at the three-day meeting.

Arab Potash Company (APC) Managing Director Ali Ensour told the opening session the chemical fertiliser industry is no less important to the world than the oil industry simply because ferti-correct version of the statement:

exclusion of other nations.

addressed on an ongoing basis.

AMMAN (Petra) — The Arab the world for farming and to

"Jordan and Morocco are among the main countries of the world besides the United States and the USSR in producing minerals used in the fertiliser industry," Ensour said.

He said Jordan abounds with phosphate and potash which are essential to the fertiliser industry and the Dead Sea provides a constant source of potash and other very useful minerals.

Jordan, he said, currently produces 1.4 million tonnes of fertilisers, expected to reach 2.2 million by the year 1996.

The meeting, which is attended lisers are needed by all nations of by representatives of various

Correction

Due to technical error the final statement issued by a seminar which concluded in Amman Sunday and was carried by the Jordan

Times Monday's issue had some discrepancies and following is the

The undersigned Arab and American participants in the May 5-6 seminar on U.S. Foreign Policy in the Middle East sponsored by the Arab Thought Forum, after covering a range of political and

1: We urge that the U.N. Security Council, with the immediate and strong support of its permanent members, convene a comprehensive Middle East peace conference to be attended by the five great powers and all parties concerned to achieve just and lasting peace,

2. We call the attention of all countries in the world to the dangers to the Middle East peace process created by the failure of so many of them to accept substantial members of Soviet Jewish emigrants thereby forcing the great majority of them to settle in Israel to the

3. Finding this seminar to be a constructive and broadening process, the participants request that an ongoing dialogue be developed by the Arab Thought Forum, so that generic and specific issues of conflict resolution in the Middle East can be

Jordan Times Tel. 667171

security issues reached consensus on a number of issues:

and to resolve the conflicts now in the Middle East.

materials for industry and agricul-

The meeting, he said, is being held amid fast moving developments in the world of fertiliser industry and world economic transformations which place added challenges before the Arab

To meet the challenges, the minister said, further measures for coordination and cooperation among the fertiliser industries are badly needed, especially as ferti-lisers are used to ensure food security for the Arab World. | sive and provocative American

Arab states, was opened by Minister of Industry and Trade Ziyad Fariz who described Jordan and the Arab World as a rich source of minerals and primary

sium on communication disorders (Petra photo)

Phonetics research centre opens

Highness Princess Sarvath Monday opened the first international Jordanian symposium on communication disorders and inaugurated a centre for phonetics research at the University of Jor-

In an address delivered at the opening session on behalf of His Royal Highenss Crown Prince Hassan, the Princess voiced appreciation to the Swiss government for providing funds and equipment for the project.

The equipment installed in the tent on setting up rehabilitation vices.

AMMAN (J.T.) — Her Royal centre included a mass computer centres for all forms of handicaps, to carry out sound analysis and a and the new centre for phonetics laryngograph which helps to research is expected to contribute monitor the performance of vocal to this national effort. cords in voiced sounds, study psycholinguistics and the effect Yousef Al Halis who presented a of communication disorders on briefing on the creation and dechildren's speech.

> lined Jordan's endeavours in lion. cooperation with other international organisations to improve health standards and help handicapped people overcome their plied for the centre's assistance predicaments.

Among the speakers was Dr.

velopment of the centre for which In her speech the Princess out- Switzerland had allocated $1 mil-

He said 200 students with communication disorders have apand currently 10 of them are Jordan, she said has been in- being provided with initial ser-

Youth union hits American resolution on Jerusalem

By Sana Atiyeh Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — The preparatory committee of Jordanian Democratic Youth Union (JDYU) issued its first statement Monday since its establishment, condemning the American Congress resolution which claims that Jerusalem was the undivided capital of Israel.

"With feelings of anger filling the hearts of our youth and people, we condemn the American Senate and Congress resolution claiming that Jerusalem is the undivided capital of the so-called state of Israel." the statement, released to the press, said. It said the committee of the union sees the resolution as a "crowning" to a series of American measures and aggressive stands against Arab

The preparatory committee of the JDYU announced its establishment April 29 and will apply for legal registration next summer, opening its doors for membership to all Jordanian youth regardless of background and-or political and cultural trends, aiming to solve problems facing the youth in and out of Jordan, such as unemployment, education, production.

One of the aims of the union, as announced by members of the preparatory committee at a press conference late last month, is "to face and combat the dangers of Zionism/ imperialism against Jordan and the Arab Nation and to support the Palestinian uprising in the occupied territories until the liberation of the land."

"It is unfortunate that the Arab reaction and position is not equivalent to the aggres-resolution: with the continuation of the so-called Arab-American relations, the continuation of pouring Arab oil to the United States, the depositing of Arab money in American banks, and the continuation of importing American raw material and products," the statement said.

The United States, it added. encourages and supports Israeli terrorism and violations of Arab and Palestinian human rights.
"The U.S. sees the Arab distinity and the weak (Arab) official position as encouragement to continue making such aggressive resolutions and decisions against our people."

The U.S. Senate adopted a resolution, March 22, recognising Jerusalem as the "united" capital of Israel and was later adopted by the Congress, April 24. The decision is a non-binding resolution to the U.S. Administration.

The statement called on a clear and strong Arab stand by allowing the release of the "Arab people's ability" and their freedom to play their role in combatting the humiliations and dangers coming to the Arab Nation from the Zionists and Imperialists.

It said that there must be serious efforts towards achieving Arab unity on the basis of democracy to guarantee Arab strength, "and putting it (Arab unity) on the road towards achieving Arab goals: freedom, progress, combatting the Zionist and imperialist aggression and the liberation of Palestine.'

In the meantime, said the statement; there must be serious support for the Palestinian uprising, which enters its 29th month today, to help achieve the legitimate Palestinian rights: the right of return, self-determination and the independent Palestinian state, with Jerusalem as its capital. under the leadership of the Palestine Liberation Organisa-

"We are calling on all our youth and people to exert efforts in supporting these nationalist goals and combatting the dangers our people and nation face," the statement said.

Police nab 15 youths capture of 15 young men between the theft, urged to do that by his the second part of last month and friends. the beginning of May who had thefts and selling the stolen items to merchants and other citizens.

Most of the apprehended youths were stealing electrical appliances like videos, cassetterecorders and jewellery; others apprehended for petty thefts and stole rolls of cloth, watches and after breaking into a school. cameras, a police spokesman set was stolen from his home; women teachers in a local schoel.

ZARQA (Petra) - Police in subsequent investigations proved Zarqa announced Monday the that his own son had committed

According to the police spokesbeen in the habit of committing man, two non-Jordanian workers were arrested after being found in possession of 623 grammes of hashish and forged U.S. dollars. He said two groups of juvenile delinquents were also

According to the spokesman, A woman in Zarqa was He said a man in Ruseifa com- apprehended after stealing plained to the police that a video money from the handbags of

Under the patronage of

HER MAJESTY QUEEN NOOR AL HUSSEIN The Charitable Jordanian Society for Cardiothoracic Diseases holds its 3rd annual which benefits poor patients suffering from lung and heart diseases. The race starts from the Plaza Hotel at 10:30 a.m. on Friday 11th of May 1990 to the University of Jordan Stadium.

HEART DAY RACE

- Al Sufara Bakery, Al Sweifieh

- Pharmacy "A Musheah," Jabal Al Hussein

Your joining is highly appreciated Centres for registration:

Sport Center, University of Jordan, tel. 843555 ext. 3175 — Rawand Pharmacy, Shmeisani - United Kingdom University Graduates (UKAS), Jabal Al

- Firas Pharmacy, Jabal Al Hussein For further information please contact the society Centre Tel. 832820, 818017, 843555 ext; 3175, 845845 ext. 2853

Chairman of the Board of Directors: MARIMOUD AL KAYED

Director General: CAMA CAMMAROM

Editor-in-Chief: GEORGE S. HAWATMEH

Editorial and advertising offices: Jordan Press Foundation,

University Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan. Telephones: 657171/6, 670141-4, 684311, 684366 Telex: 21497 ALRAI IO Facsimile: 661242

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

National Charter and constitutional hurdle

THE Royal Commission entrusted with the mandate to draft the proposed National Charter encountered the first major hurdle when it deliberated over the issue of the legal standing of the charter. While some members of the commission argued that this issue does not fall within the purview of the commission's mandate, others argued otherwise. Technically, the mandate given to the Royal Commission did not go as far as submitting the juridical aspects of the charter to the attention of the commission. Substantively speaking, however, there is no sensible way for the members of the group to debate the contents of the charter without knowing in advance the legal import of such contents. The course of the deliberations over the proposed document would surely be determined by the constitutional and legal implications of the charter.

Understandably, all those members who spoke against mjecting the legal dimension of the proposal into the debate lack legal sophistication. To draft the document without determining beforehand its legal significance would indeed be like putting the cart before the horse. Any view to the contrary would simply substantiate persistent fears that the professional qualifications of some members of the Royal Commission are lacking.

The right thing to do now is to have the legal committee of the Royal Commission examine this issue from all its angles and submit in due course its findings to the entire membership of the commission for adoption. Since the commission is considering what is essentially a legally binding document, the non-legal minded members of the commission would be well advised to give the recommendations of the legal committee full faith and credit. It is unfortunate that this particular subject was not discussed beforehand by the promoters of the idea of the charter. By brushing it aside till this late hour they only have complicated the debate over the whole issue. But better late than never. The legal vacuum created by such suspension of the consideration of the legal dimension of the charter thus needs rectification and now is the time to do it.

Jordan Press Editorials

JORDANIAN Arabic dailies on Monday commented on the prospects of an Arab summit meeting which they said was of urgent need to help the Arabs plan for action in the immediate

Al Ra'i daily said that the summit will be the first real step towards putting an end to conspiracies hatched by the enemies of the nation and an end to enemy plans to impose begemony on the Arab World. With the convening of the summit, the Arabs will prove to the world that they can rise to the occasion and can protect their national interests and attain the aspired peace, the paper noted. By convening a summit, the Arabs will show their real awareness of the serious challenges their nation is now facing and the dimension of danger inherent in the enemy plans and conspiracies, the paper continued. The Jewish immigration to Palestine, the hostile media campaign against Iraq and the continued Israeli occupation of Palestine should come to an end through a peaceful and just solution to the Arab-Israeli conflict, the paper noted. It said that justice cannot be confined to certain nations alone, and should encompass the Arab region and benefit the Palestinians who have been struggling for freedom.

A columnist in Al Ra'i says that the dangers posed to the Arab Nation make it incumbent on Iraq and Syria to reconcile and work together, starting from an Arab summit which is to be held in Baghdad shortly. Tareq Masarweh notes that both Iraq and Syria have sustained damage to their own interests as a result of Turkey's water strategy and in matters related to oil. It is high time for Baghdad and Damascus to realise that their national interests are in real jeopardy now in view of the continued Israeli expansionist policies and the Jewish immigration into Palestine, the writer notes. He says that Arab leaders ought to realise that Israel is striving to expand its occupied territory to include all of Lebanon, all of Jordan, three quarters of Iraq, one third of Saudi Arabia and all of Syria in order to ensure oil and water resources for its expanding and ever growing population. In view of these grave dangers the Baghdad summit ought to be convened and the mediations of King Hussein and Prince Abdullah Ben Abdul Aziz to end differences between Baghdad and Damascus should by all means succeed if the Arabs are bent on protecting their existence and national interests, the writer concludes.

Al Dustour daily also tackled the prospect of an Arab summit under the present circumstances and in a bid to lend real help to the Palestinian people in the occupied territories. The paper echoed earlier editorials that the dangers are immense and the challenges posed by Israel and its allies are very serious, requiring concerted Arab efforts and pooling of resources. The paper noted that the Jordanian leadership has been spearheading efforts towards convening a summit and bringing about reconciliation between Syria and Iraq to pave the way for a successful meeting. The current contacts between the capitals of the Arab World reflect the Arab leaders' realisation of the seriousness of the situation and demonstrate the intentions of Saudi Arabia and Jordan to rally the Arabs in the face of the common challenges, the paper said. It added that the coming summit is deemed essential to deal with the pressing issues and to chart joint action.

New Europe and future relation with the U.S.

By Dr. Radwan Al Abdullah and Dr. Mohammad Kheir Mustafa

resources at the level of the European Continent and benefiting from the old economic idea of economies of scale will generate a giant economic superpower probably unparalleled in history. For Western Europe there are now two incentives to promote and eventually to establish the "Common European Home." First, the opening up of the Eastern European market to Western goods and services, benefiting from proximity and the privilege the notion of the "Common European Home" would provide. This is purely an economic raison d'etre which indeed might prove the strongest of incentives considering that winning or losing an election in Western Europe depends very much on economic performance.

The second incentive for the formation of the "Common European Home" is political. It is well established that the dividing line between East and West Europe is not geographical but

IT IS self-evident that pooling of rather political. Different political and ideological systems accompanied growing mistrust and a constant fear of military threat. Both the NATO alliance and Warsaw Pact have institutionalised that fear. Now with Communist parties losing their grip on power in Eastern Europe and demonstrators carrying banners advocating freedom; democracy. pluralism and more importantly backing the free-market system have changed the whole scene and altered the basic assumptions that have existed since the World War II. The dividing line is now melting away and the exclusion of Eastern Europe on political grounds from "Europe" (i.e. Western) is losing its raison

> There is also evidently growing public pressure on the Western side for closer European cooperation and an emphasis on the "European Character." That was clearly the lesson the Conservative Party in Britain had learned after it lost its majority seats at elections (1989) to the Labour Party which advocated stronger European cooperation, and which also succeeded in portraying the Conservative Party as an unenthusiastic party for European unity. The people's expression on the Eastern side of their willingness for closer European cooperation has been more dramatic with cutting fences, digging "loopholes" and the overthrowing of governments.

To be sure the idea of cooperation between East and West is not a new idea. One only needs to recall the era of detente during the early and mid 1970s and the notion of "peaceful coexistence" to prove that. However, what we are witnessing today differs fundamentally in two respects: First, both detente and peaceful coexistence were instruments for managing conflict by maintaining the existing dividing line. Now the whole purpose of cooperation between Western and Eastern Europe is, in contrast, to abolish that line.

Second, detente and peaceful co-existence were advocated be-step out of the shadow of the workers's party and seek support from its potential voters. These tems: "capitalist" (the West) and "non-capitalist" (the East), or depending on ideology: Communist or non-Communist. With the disappearance of the main obstacles for cooperation between Eastern and Western Europe, namely political and ideological differences, it is commonsensical to suggest that the other hindrances for the formation of the European Home will easily be overcome. The first hindrance which comes to mind is that of the difference in industrial development between Western and Eastern Europe. However, a quick glance at the performance of the EC members and that of Eastern Europe countries does suggest that the economic hindrance is not as formidable as it may seem. For instance East Germany's economy is more advanced than those of Portugal, Greece and even Spain. The Soviet Union, if it were to divert part of its military expenditure and that is assumingly what it is doing, could become a powerful economic power of its own. Ireland's economy, which is essentially a farming one, is not that Eastern Europe in a way the U.S. superior to many Eastern European countries. Accommodating other Eastern European countries, thus, is not an impossible

To talk about a new European region does not require at all a central government for the whole region. Indeed, far from it. Events in Eastern Europe and in particular the revival of nationalism in the Soviet Union clearly reveal that the general trend is for decentralisation of government rather than the reverse. The whole idea of a region is essentially based on defining borders for that region (political as well as geographical) in contrast to the outside world: In other words, it is a matter of asking the question: which country is entitled for membership to this newly formed European club and which is not. No matter how a European region is defined, both the United States and Japan stand aloof from it. That must be what was on Italian Foreign Minister Gianani De Michelis' mind, when he stated that Western Europe has been a pillar of attraction to and Japan couldn't have been. This is very significant since U.S. relations with Europe would be governed more clearly than ever by this European criterion. The U.S. special position in Europe has so far been maintained in Western Europe for security reasons. Now, with all the changes in the international climate Europe's need for U.S. protection and extended deterrence would no longer hold. The U.S., as a result, would become more of a competing economic power and less of a security guarantor. This is indeed a very grim reading to U.S. policy-makers. Despite the obvious triumph in the U.S. concerning the changes taking place in Europe, it may prove that they were not the blessings the U.S. policy-makers had hoped for.

Doctors Mustafa and Al Abdullah are both assistant professors of political science at the University of Jordan. Dr. Al Abdullah chairs the university's political science department.

Austria: Europe's 'fifth wheel'?

The debate on joining the European Community has been going on in Austria for several years now. The idea has its ardent supporters, sympathetic neutrals and opposition. Hannes Hofbauer, Austrian journalist and deputy editor-in-chief of MOZ magazine, explores the issue.

Franz H. is a farmer living in Lembach, a community located in the wooded area near the border with Czechoslovakia. Life here is not easy with usually severe weather conditions, scarce fodder, and late modest harvests.

Franz sells milk to a local cooperative at a price maintained at its present level by state subsidies. But for these subsidies, peasants in the peripheral provinces would hardly be able to make both ends meet. The idea of tough competition from the owners of gigantic modern agricultural farms in the Netherlands and northern West Germany, where automatic milking machines can take care of over 1,000 cows, is terrifying to the local farmers. This competition is also feared by the more prosperous villagers from Austria's low-land. "If Austria joins the EC. we'll go under," says Franz H.. "and will have to leave... Hitler in his time wanted to drive all district-dwellers out of here and set up a game preserve for bear hunting. What did not happen then will inevitably happen now if Austria becomes a member of the Eurpopean Community." Franz H. has no more time for idle talk. He gets onto his tractor and together with his old father, heads off to the forest to fell trees. Take another Austrian, owner of a confectionary works in Vienna, employing some 80 people. He doesn't like talking "politics" but yielding to pressure, lets out: "Austria's full membership in the EC is our only hope. Only if Austria joins the EC shall I have no problem exporting my produce to West Germany and Spain even when the all-European market is ceated." More than half of all confectionaries produced here are exported to EC members. One of the advantages, according to the owner of the small chocolate producing works, who insisted on anonimity, is cheap labour from Hungary and Yugoslavia which is soon to be augmented by workers from Czechoslovakia. The people he employs at his works often have no official registration. That's routine practice in Vienna, he says, for anyone interested in cheap unskilled labour. "Judge for yourself," he says, "I pay them 60 schillings per hour for wrapping up the products and they are absolutely happy." The employer also need not pay insurance for such employees and saves on other expenses as well. Moreover, he pays less in taxes. "With products produced so cheaply, you don't have to fear competition anywhere in the European community." The euphoria may well disappear if Austria does not succeed to jump on the bandwagon bound for a single European market.

Unanswered letter

"Taking part in the all-Europear integration process is of critical importance for Austria." states the working agreement of Austria's coalition government. Since the fall of 1986 it has tried to tackle the issue of the political future of this small republic. In the middle of 1989 the federal government made up of representatives of two major political parties - the Socialist Party of Austria and Austrian People's Party - sent Foreign Minister Alois Mock to Brussels to announce Austria's intent to join the Community. The statement he made was the result of lengthy and controversial debate.

There has been no answer since Austria seems to still be considered a "fifth wheel" to the cart.

Figuring out the arguments for such a decision is easy. The powerful wind of strong international competition is to drive the more dynamic Austrian companies and enterprises towards a more efficient economy. Jan Stankovsky, an expert in economics, sounds more restrained in. his judgement: "The reason why-Austria should become part of the all-European market is a desire to eschew the negative consequences of not being officially part of it." The concept of the Europe of 1992 may indeed turn it into a fortress whereby anyone who was not in due time made its "Euroknight" will be discriminated against.

But on the other end of the scale Austria faces a direct threat from sweeping integration within the EC. The strong wind of international competition may well turn into a gale storm, that will wipe out smallholders and artisans, and might cause not a little trouble for pensioners and workers now employed in rather protected industries.

"In the EC it's an early bird that catches the worm," said Austrian Minister of Economy Wolfgang Schüssel. What if you just have not had the luck to make it big? I asked him. "Sorry, but in the economy, as in life itself, there is not only success but failure too." And it is for the "weaklings"-older people for example, who have enough hardships as it is - that Austria's membership in the Economic Community bodes no good. The prospect is catastrophic for them, because of the current pace of integration.

In Austria today one hears quite an array of opinions about its role in the all-European market. Politicians have been rapidly changing their assessment, during the past five years, though no one so far thought of speeking about perestroika in Austria. Traditionally, the most ardent and steadfast supporters of Austria's membership in the EC have been members the Industrialists Association and the small liberal Freedom Party of Austria which unites under its banner both old hard-liners and "yuppies".

The Socialist Party of Austria and Austrian People's Party already at the end of 1987 ruled out the possibility of Austria's full membership in the EC for political reasons, i.e. because of the country's neutrality. They proposed concluding an agreement on associate membership. But their orientation has since altered radically, and for the last year and a only one motto has been heard loudly and clearly, "Membership" or death."

We should hook on to the EC," says the Socialist Party's General Secretary Josef Cap, "and becoming part of it take up the fight, otherwise we will loose touch with the international market." The Socialist Party today is basically a radical force bent upon integration, which wants to

are the so-called new middle class clerks and managers, engineers, and artists, whose chief common feature is their "European" mentality and a desire to shed the status of a small provincial state. In the conservative People's Party the industrialists have won a landslide, whereas peasants and artisans are still entangled in a desperate but hopeless struggle for a major say in the party. Yet together with supporters of the idea of membership in the EC. Austria has a few opponents who view this move in somewhat less rosy colours. They warn against joining a community dominated by the F.R.G. "Twice during this century the Vienna-Berlin axis has brought sorrow upon the heads of our compatriots, they say. It was no trivial matter when back in 1955 Austria announced its intent to remain neutral once and for all. Erwin Lanc, a member of the Board of the Socialist Party and former foreign minister of Austia, makes his message clear: The European Community plans to become something more than just an integrated economic union. The European Single Act embodies - quite unambiguously a striving for a common military and foreign policy. How then, can a neutral Austria be part of such a union?" Together with some of his associates, Erwin Lanc initiated the movement "Austria and Europe", which emphasises the incompatibility of the country's neutral status with its membership in the European Community.

The "Greens" who have 8 seats in national parliament, are also against EC membership. They are afraid to see Austria turn into one of Europe's backyards, and these fears are shared by many pean market by the end of 1992, Austrian peasants who feel that their future is jeopardised. Without state subsidies and state regulation of small business - both of which will be swept away in the process of integration - dozens of thousands of small holdings and enterprises will crumble in the face of strong competition from outside.

Landowners and agricultural experts from the western lands of the Tyrol and Salzburg have quite different reasons for scepticism. In these areas transit traffic from Bavaria to northern Italy may, with the creation of a single European market, take on such proportions that the Alpine valleys will be faced with an ecological catastrophy. The woods lining the main motorways running across the Alps are already being destroyed and people are driven from their homes. Recent elections to the Landtag in the Tyrol showed that almost 10 per cent of local dwellers demonstrated their traditional outlook by backing the "Greens" considered no sooner than 1993 when the creation of a single European market including 12 EC member states is complete, has one important condition: Austria is to remain neutral. Austria declared its neutrality in 1955 and soon signed an agreement with the four powers - winners of the Second World War. The country immediately joined the European Free Trade Area (EFTA), and finally in 1972 it was drawn into the European Community with the signing of a series of agreements between the EFTA and EC, even though it is officially not a member of the community.

Austria's request for mem-

The creation of a single Euro- rate enterprises but of entire as envisaged in the European Single Act, will present an entirely different situation. Participation in this market will be allowed only for full members of the Community. Joining the EC then will be a bit problematic for neutral Austria if only because the EC, as stated in the Act. Austria. seeks to form a defensive union and a single security mechanism.

The Act speaks of a more coordinated and close cooperation of the European countries in matters of European tribute to a single foreign policy for all members of the Community. Voting in the EC, is supposed to be by majority, which makes it impossible for Austria to avoid being engulfed in a war - should it break out - even though it chooses to vote against it. This consideration made the federal government mention in its report to the National Council (parliament) that Austria can not possibly take part in trying to transfer the future integrated Community into a defensive union. That said, there are other problems posed in the area of international trade. A tive is somewhat gloomy as membership in the EC, which can be neutral Austria could not join bership in the EC will mean the trade embargos imposed by the EC, like the one on trade with Argentina at the time of the war over the Falkland Islands.

issues of integration in the office the EC towards Eastern Europe. of the federal chancellor, spoke of some other delicate problems Austria's neutrality will cause in the near future. There is no provision for Austria's right to provide itself with all the necessary supplies in times of crisis, yet this right is envisaged in the country's state defence plan. A centralised system of quotas on energy supply for each country within the EC ties the hands not only of sepa- wards, as it did in 1941 and 1939.

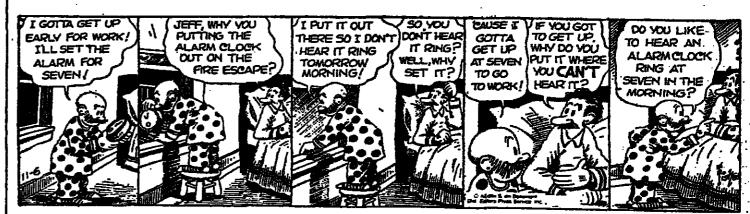

countries in matters of provision. Moreover, according to the Treaty of Rome, Austria would not be able to prevent or protest the transport of military cargo across its territory. Of the EC's 12 member-states, 11 are members of the NATO alliance. This also is a source of considerable worry for .

All things considered, Austria has no choice, either politically or economically. On the one, hand, as a neutral state it can not join military alliances or make itself dependent on them, on the other, this country with a population of 7 million is completely tied to the EC economically. The Community accounts for 60 per cent of Austria's exports and 67 per cent of its imports. Not a very powerful country economically, Austria has a trade deficit and the total worth of its GNP is notably lower than that of the EC members. Goods imported from West technologically-intensive products while the bulk of Austrian exports are made up of semifinished country's transition into a peripheral state in the heart of Europe. It is hard to predict today how its position will be Maria Berger, chief expert on affected by the common policy of The dialogue meant to work out this policy has only just started and concerns a so-called Europe between the EC and the Soviet Union which could with time include Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and East Germany. That is, if the Germanies' unification does not hamper this cooperation and a future big Germany does not start expanding east-

In a word, Austria's perspec-

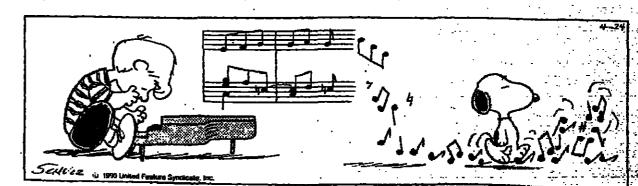

Mutt'n'Jeff

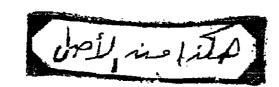

Andy Capp

Peanuts

position of position and position of a same indeed to a s and Al she tant profes at the to Dr. Al she creaty's part pm of 4-

rs of $p_{\overline{\boldsymbol{n}}\boldsymbol{n}_{\boldsymbol{Q}}},$ ंत्रह का क्षेत्र

ia world p

Or protes:

ary campe. e EC s 12-5

members 🛧

This also

rable wor. sidered, Ac

her politic the one b it can ng . or make: ா. 00 ந்த்

a popular

letely tiels

. The Conc

60 per ez

and 67 nr:

ot a very pr

enically, A:

ait and the

' is notabli

e EC mer

from Wes

nsive pre of Austra

p of semile ustria's 🏗 isition is in the 🗷 hard to F position &

ommon piè Eastern Er

eant to wi only just E

so-called it and the S

ould whi

Czechosti:

East 65€

:rmanies E

amper 🗯

expanded in 1941 sale

OU LIKE

S AT

F 9 2

erigi sirinda organization in territoria. La principal de la principal d La principal de la principal d

Being the same of the same of the same of

The new "Drager Newtonit." The first "rigid" diving suits enabling a diver to move freely underwater were conceived of 200 years ago. This Driger suit permits a much higher degree of mobility and can be used at very great depths. Photo: INP/

Freedom while deep-sea diving

LUBECK (INP) — The Drager works in Lübeck now manufactures a pressurised diving suit that permits full mobility at depths of up to 300 metres. According to a spokesman from the German company, the light-weight suit allows ample freedom of movement since water pressure weighs on the suit rather than on the diver's

Expensive gas mixes for deep-sea diving are no longer needed for the "Drager Newtsuit." A dive lasting twelve hours and going down to a depth of 300 metres used to require a crew of eighteen. Now only three people are needed. Depending on the depth of the dive, the diver also used to have to spend several weeks "being brought back up" in a pressure chamber. The new pressurised suit can be readied for a deep-sea dive within a few hours. All of the equipment can be stowed in a container and, if necessary, transported by plane of helicopter. This has all been made possible as a result of the use of a new technology in the swivelling joint segments of the suit. The diver retains a 75 per cent ability to move freely, even under the most extreme pressure. Especially the arms have an almost unrestricted radius of movement. In the case of conventional "rigid" diving suits; freedom of movement decreases with increasing pressure. The "Drager Newtsuit" is used mainly in the exploitation of offshore energy resources such as gas and oil as well as in underwater research. It can also be made donned rapidly for search and rescue operations in deep water.

No plan to shift summit

·-- (Continued from page 1) --

In Riyadh, Saudi Information Minister Ali Al Shaer quoted King Fahd as saying the kingdom would "continue seeking efforts towards bridging the rift... and unifying Mus-lim and Arab ranks," the Saudi Press

Agency (SPA) reported.

He said the monarch's remarks were made during a cabinet session to discuss the Arab tour by Crown Prince Abdullah.

The foreign policy of Saudi Arabia is based on clear and standing principles that do not change," King paracipies that the not change, some feated said. "It will not take any decision dealing with the Arab Na-tion's causes without consultations with the brotherly leaders and under the umbrella of the Arab League and

Sandi Arabia said earlier Monday it favours a full Arab summit conference but that such a meeting should be agreed unanimously by Arab its relevant rules."

SPA quoted an official source as denying the kingdom was proposing a ini-commit. "The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia has no such proposal... it supports Arab unanimity towards convening an Arab symmit called for by... Iraqi President Saddam Husscin," it said. In Cairo, Iraqi Foreign Minister Tareq Aziz insisted that the summit would be held in Baghdad despite Syrian opposition.

There are no connects to change the venue... since it has been agreed that it will be held in Baghdad," Aziz told reporters on arrival at Cairo.

Aziz, who is both foreign minister and deputy prime minister, said the Arab security, an apparent reference to Soviet Jews emigrating to the Israeli-occupied territories, and to recent Western criticism of Iraqi policies. Earlier, Iraqi media said Soudi summit would deal with threats to Arabia will attend the summit. Baghdad TV broke into a late-night movie to make the announcement following lengthy talks between Iraqi President Saddam Hussein and Prince Abdullah that ended after midnight. The Iraqi TV said that President Hussein and Abduallh, who flew to Baghdad from Damascus Sunday, agreed "on the necessity of holding the Arab Summit in Baghdad" and that they should cooperate "to lead the summit to success." The Iraqi News Agency report said: "Saudi Arabian Crown Prince Abdullah and President Saddom Hussem have agreed on the significance of convening the Arab summit conference in Baghdad and to coordinate efforts in such a way that will lead to In Baghdad, Arafat criticised some Arab leaders.

"I have been touring Arab countries over the past two months to get support for an Arab summit conference... and until now I got no response for its time, agenda etc," Arafat said.

The Palestinian leader was speaking at the opening of an Arab conference in solidarity with Iraq in its current war of words with the United States, Britain and Israel. "Some (Arab leaders) are even suggesting we postpone the Arab summit (until)... after the Bush-Gorbachev summit at the end of this month," Arasat said.

Women seek to counter ban

(Continued from page 1)

union were also prompt in reacting to the ban. Some of them formed a delegation and went to the Ministry of Interior Monday to try to see Minister of Interior Salem Masadeh "for a clarification."

"We were unable to see anyone and we did not receive a copy of the decision," said a male owner of a beauty salon who is also executive member of the association.

Out of seven salons contacted by the Jordan Times, the majority felt that the ban will not be implemented or enacted

One Jordanian hairdresser said: "The decision is bad for - applicants for licence or all. the government because now - hairdressers in the Kingdom.

they collect taxes from us and get money for work permits for foreigners who work here." If the decision is implemented, he and others "would have to go to their clients' homes to do their hair, as they do in Saudi Arabia."

"It would be good for us in a way," he said. "We will not pay taxes or pay the salon owner any money.

Ministry of Interior officials refused to comment on the decision but one official confirmed that the report about the ban was correct. There is, however, some ambiguity about the extent of the move: Whether it only applies to new

Fear, madness, death mingled in Saigon's final days

By George Esper The Associated Press

THE COLONEL had a crazed look in his eyes, despuir in his voice, facing a calamity that on this final day would bring to an end a century of western influence in Vietnam.

A beaten man, he stood at a South Vietnamese war memorial in Lam Son Square in Saigon. In happier times, it was a place where revelers had exploded firecrackers in joyous celebra-

But on this Wednesday morning, April 30, 1975, the colonel and thousands like him had been told in a broadcast by the Saigon government to stack their weapons in surrender to the feared Communist North Vietnamese.

I stood there with him, face to face, trying to sort out what was going on.

The colonel frantically waved his arms. "Fini, fini," he shouted.

His right hand moved to his holstered pistol. Would be taken aim at me, a symbol of the American allies he might have felt had abandoned him and his countrymen in these final days?

The colonel saluted the statue, raised the pistol to his head and fired. He fell dead at my feet. His war was over.

There was fear, panic and humiliation among the South Vietnamese troops pouring into Saigon from their outposts and garrisons to lay down their weapons and those trying to flee the country with their American

On the day of Saigon's fall 15 years ago I walked through city streets littered with boots and olive green uniforms discarded by South Vietnamese soldiers who were trapped and faced the wrath of the Communists. They had changed into civilian clothes in efforts to hide their military service for fear of reprisals. The "Pentagon East," the once-bustling U.S. military headquarters inside Tan Son Nhut air base, lay gutted by grenades, destroyed by the Americans themselves.

North Vietnamese soldiers in loose-fitting uniforms and pith helmets stood guard at positions once manned by crew-cut, spitand-polish American Marines. I watched soldiers raise the red, blue and yellow flag of the National Liberation Front — the Viet Cong - over the presidential palace.

in the final days, scores of Vietnamese friends, journalism colleagues, army officers and politicians had lined up outside the AP bureau asking me to intercede with the U.S. embassy to get them out of the country. Some followed me around, slept outside my apartment, not letting me out of their sight, thinking that if I left they somehow would

Left behind in the hysteria of disorganised evacuation were more than 400 friends and allies of the United States, including Vietnamese U.S. embassy. employees and their families. They had been promised safe passage out of the country. At the AP bureau, the incoming teletype from New York South China Sea to an aircraft headquarters clicked off a message from Wes Gallagher, then the president and general manager of the AP. He advised there might be one more helicopter. "Any of you want to leave if it works out?" he asked. "Gallagher: Thanks for your offer," I replied. "We want to

Only minutes earlier, the last American helicopter had left with the last of 800 U.S. Marine reinforcements who had provided security for the evacuation. Its flight ended the evacuation of 1,000 Americans and 6,000 Vietnamese, including many of the top military commanders thought to be marked for death because ited States. A rear guard of 11 U.S. Marines scrambled to the sixth floor of the embassy, then to the rooftop landing pad to await the final helicopter. A crowd of Vietnamese, panicked by rumours of a Communist bloodbath that never materialised, followed, desperately seeking a way out of the

of their association with the Un-

The Marines tossed teargas into the stairwells to fend them off. Suddenly, off in the sunrise they spotted the CH-46 helicopter for which they had been anxiously waiting.

The happy Marines fired a red smoke grenade to guide it to the landing pad. North Vietnamese forces ringing the city withheld their fire, fearing retaliation by American bombers flying cover for the evacuation. The Marines jumped aboard and the helicopter whirled out of sight over the

They were the last American military men to leave. At 7:57 a.m., just like that, 30 years of American involvement ended so suddenly that even the North Vietnamese seemed surprised.

Most U.S. military forces had left Vietnam two years earlier, under terms of the Paris peace agreement. But 50 American military attaches and 1,200 civilians remained at the defence attache's beadquarters, which had replaced the U.S. military command in the Pentagon East. An additional 150 U.S. Marine guards remained at the embassy. The final evacuation was hastened by a heavy artillery attack, a signal by the North Vietnamese that they wanted the Americans out of the country immediately. Tuesday, April 29, dawned with a three-hour rain of rockets and artillery shells onto Tan Son Nhut air base.

Two recently arrived Marines, Charlie McMahoa, 21, and Darwin Judge, 19, were on their, watch at the U.S. defence attache's headquarters on the base. McMahon had been home on leave less than two weeks earlier. "I'll be back." he told his father as he left for Vietnam.

Instead Charlie McMahon and Darwin Judge were struck down at random by an imprecise North Vietnamese rocket in the final hours of shooting. They were the last two Americans killed in Vietnam.

During the evacuations, helicopters swarmed over Saigon, landing on the rooftop pad at the embassy and at Tan Son Nhut air

Hundreds of South Vietnamese soldiers converged on the base, seeking an escape route by air. South Vietnamese guards, angry that the Americans were pulling out without them, fired their rifles into the air over buses carrying the evacuees to board the belicopters.

"We want to go, too," they shouted.

Hundreds of Vietnamese tried to push their way through a chain-link fence gate in the centre of the four-metre high wall surrounding the U.S. embassy com-

Vietnamese men and women tried to claw their way over the wall. In danger of losing control of the situation and being overwhelmed by the crowd, frantic battle-garbed marines and civilians beat them back with pistol and rifle butts, feet and fists. They pulled westerners who couldn't break through the mob over the wall by their collars.

Mothers held their children above the crowd, begging the Americans inside to take them

The evacuation ended at 4.20 a.m. The next morning, April 30. Twenty-five minutes later, U.S. Ambassador Graham Martin left carrying the American flag. Another group of officers departed less than an hour later. Then the Marine rear guard left minutes before 8 a.m., closing the doors to Vietnam.

Now, all ties were severed and an eerie quiet fell across the capital as a 31/2 million Saigonese anxiously awaited the triumphant march of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong into the city. At noon, the conquering troops rolled down unity boulevard in tanks and trucks to claim the presidential palace.

At some point, to my surprise, two North Vietnamese soldiers who looked no older than 20 casually strolled into the AP office. They made no threats or demands. To me, they seemed like curious country boys who were awed by the big city.

We offered them cokes and some stale poundcake, the only food and drink we had left in the office. We took out a map and they showed us the invasion routes their forces had taken on their advance to Saigon.

They talked about their homes in the North and how much they missed their families. They showed us photos they had carried through the jungles and monsoons for months.

For 10 years I had been writing about the North Vietnamese -50 killed, 100 kilied - cold statistics in battlefield reports. I had seen them in death, their bodies stacked across the killing fields. I had seen them in prison of war camps and in delegations that came to Saigon for peace talks.

Now they were standing in front of my eyes. I thought to myself, "they're the same as the South Vietnamese. They have the same feelings, the same fears. the loneliness for families. For nearly two decades they've been killing each other and taking so many Americans with them."

For them, and for me, the war was finally over.

The business district of "La Défense," begun in the western suburbs of Paris in 1956, is nearly finished. One of the first buildings to be erected there, has been totally renovated. The CNIT re-opened in September 1989. Together with its new installations, it now forms the heart of this district devoted to international business.

A new international business centre for Paris

By Oliver Lord

IN 1956, the public authorities decided to give Paris an ultramodern business district. The site chosen, which covers 700 hectares, was at "la Défense," a few minutes away from the capital. The forty or so towerblocks of offices, together with blocks of flats, shopping centres, public facilities and parks are built around a central espla-business district in Europe. It lies in the near western suburbs of the French capital. The 6,000 firms which have their offices nade 40 hectares in area. Le Défense is the foremost there, employ more than 100,000 people and have a turnover of 900 billion francs. Moreover, these companies include 13 of the 50 major firms in the world (General Motors, Exxon, IBM, Bayer, B.P., Hitachi, Nestlé, Unilever, etc.) and 14 of the top 20 French firms (EDF, ELF, CGE, Total, Saint-Gobain, etc.).

Today, Le Défense is nearly finished. In July 1989, the white marble "Great Arch," designed by the Danish architect Von Spreckeisen, a superb architectural feat rising up along the Champs Elysées axis, was inaugurated.

Also in 1989, one of the very first buildings erected at La clearing, door-to-door

Agents all over the world Tel: 664690, Fax: 866652

Th: 22205 BESMCO JO P.O. Box 225487

AMMAN JORDAN

Kashinis

Restaurant

service

Défense, the National Centre of Industries and Techniques (CNIT), constructed from May 1956 to September 1958 following plans designed by the French architects Camelot. Mailly and Zehrfuss, was also re-opened after being completely transformed at a cost of 2 billion trancs. This spectacular building in the form of anequilateral triangular-shaped groined vault with 818 metre long sides, nearly 50 metres high, in only supported in three

The CNIT was originally used for exhibitions and trade fairs. It has been thoroughly renovated by the Sari Ing-énierie company and today forms a centre for communication and exchanges which is unique in the world. It is now organised around three areas:

The INFOMART area, is the too European market in the new technologies of information and communication. In an area of 22,000 m², it offers a permanent shop-window for mroe than 220 firms (producers, distributors, and training associations, institutions or organisations), specialised in data-processing, telecommunications, office automation and organisation.

The IT COM area, groups together 45 firms specialised in communications techniques and technologies, a marketing centre, an audio, video and television production and postproduction centre, a training unit and a press centre, in an area of 4,000 square metres.

And, lastly, the World Trade Centre, created together with the Paris Chamber of Trade and Industry and affiliated to a world network consisting of 190 similar centres, is devoted to interntional exchanges and trade. Its 20,000 m² receive all the partners involved in the import-export chain: operators, public agents in foreign trade, service com-panies, industrial and commercial firms concerned by international exchanges, and representatives of foreign countries.

These facilities are complemented by a conference and exhibition centre, a top-level training area run by the ESSEC group, a Europe circle designed for relaxation and leisure. The new CNIT employs 1.500 people and its turnover is forecast as being 500 million francs. More than 3,000,000 visitors are expected every year beneath the vault of this new international business centre whose floor has now been paved with a beautiful marble mixed with granite - L'Actualite en France.

The Regency Policie Hotel

ALALALI

Haute Cuisine

Rooftop Restaurant

Nightly

Oryx Band &

Oriental Belly-dancer

RUWAYDAH

For reservation

cali 660000-15

₽

The First Class Hotel in THE PROFESSIONALS STUDIO HAIG Amman that has a ALWAYS CHOOSE Kitchenette in every Professional Quality in THE RELIABLE room...! CROWN 1 Hour Servick Develop your colour film at our shop and get:-PACKING, AIR FREIGHT DAROTEL INT'L EST. FORWARDING, DOOR-to packing, shipping, =اراوتیل DOOR SERVICES AND * JUMBO photo forwarding, storaging.

Amman - Tel. 668193 P.O. Box 9403 - Fax 602434 Expatriates and

Telex 23888 DAROTL JO Ideal Residence For Businessmen

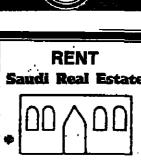

Bank. Phone: 604042 Swefich tel: 823891 ICAN

size 30% larger

· Free enlargement 20 x 30 cm

Shmeisani - Opp. Grindlays

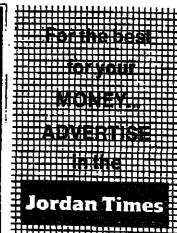

EASTERN

PACKING.

DOOR -TO-DOOR SERVICES,

INTERNATIONAL FORWARDING.

ATR & SEA FREIGHT.

MURANT CHINA The first & best Chinese Restaurant in Jordan

DELIVERIES, CUSTOMS

CLEARANCE, TICKETS

AND RESERVATIONS.

AMIN KAWAR&SONS TEL. 604676 804696 P.O.BOX 7806

1st Circle, Jabal Amman, near Ahliyyah Girls School Taka away is avalishio Open daily 12:00-3:30 p.m. 6:30-Midnight

Tel. 638968

FIRST CLASS INDIAN . RESTAURANT Special Executive Luncheons Take away service available Open Daily 12.30-3.30 pm 7.30-11.30 pm After the Philadelphia Hotel Towards 3rd circle Tel:559519 659520

CHEN'S CHINESE RESTAURANT Mecca Street, Yarmouk Engineers' Housing Estate, near Kilo Supermarket

Mongollan Barbeque for Lunch Friday only Tel: 818214 Come and taste our specialities Open daily 12:00 - 3:30 p.m. 6:30 - Midnight

FOOD LUNCH & DINNER

CALL SOHA

Rental Dept. 687821/22

Group of Seven agrees to boost IMF capacity

WASHINGTON (Agencies) — Finance leaders of the world's seven largest industrial powers are paving the way for a 50 per cent boost in the International Monetary Funds's (IMF) capacity, far less than is being sought by loan-hungry nations in Eastern Europe and the developing world.

The Group of Seven (G-7) meeting Sunday, endorsed a proposal to raise the capital con-..butions of the IMF's 152 member nations to $180 billion from the current $120 billion.

The increase "would provide the fund with the resources to fulfill its central responsibilities in the world economy," said the group, composed of finance ministers and central bank chiefs of the United States, Japan, West Germany, Britain, France, Canada and italy. IMF Managing Director Michel Camdessus originally sought a $100 per cent increase to enable the fund to support emerging capitalism in Eastern Europe and back Treasury Secretary Nicholas F. Brady's strategy for easing the crushing $1.3-trillion Third World debt.

Many developing countries are pushing for a bigger increase, and 70 per cent of the IMF membership has supported an incarease of two-thirds or more.

The issue moved Monday to the 22-nation interim committee. the IMF policy board. The inper cent of the fund's voting power. The United States, with 20 per cent of the voting power, effectively has a veto on the

"It's going to be a difficult meeting, one that will take some time and some very sensitive histening," said Canadian Finance Minister Michael Wilson, chairman of the interim committee.

Currency markets, often the focus of Group of Seven gatherings, received less attention. Exchange rates have been relatively stable since the ministers' last meeting April 7 in Paris, but the ven remains near a three-year low against the dollar.

In Sunday's statement, the officiais "noted with satisfaction the recent stability of exchange markets" but said they "remained of the view that the present level may have undesirable consequences for the global adjustment

Also on the agenda of the ession, closed to reporters and the public, were the economic effects of the reunification of Germany and a review of progress since brady launched the new debt strategy in March 1989.

The Group of Seven gathering preceded the spring meetings Monday and Tuesday of the IMF and its sister lending organisation, the World Bank. Its seal of approval is the crucial first step for the $60 billion increase in quotas. The U.S. share would be hont $12 billion.

The increase faces opposition from members of congress sceptical of foreign aid programmes, even though the complex treatment of IMF finances keeps the U.S. contribution from showing up in the budget deficit.

The G-7 also wrestled with the politically symbolic issue of rankings and voting power within the Treasury Under-secretary David Mulford told reporters Japan will jump from fifth place in the fund to second, a position it will share with West Germany, which had been thrid.

The change would require both countries to make a greater contribution to the fund and recognises their growing economic might since the last reordering of the fund in 1983.

Mulford said Britain, which had been second, and France, which had been fourth, "made considerable progress in reaching an agreement in principle" to share the fourth position. At the urging of the United States, the Group of Seven also ereed to link the quota increase with a plan to deal with 11 combehind in loan payments to the Money in a special IMF fund tries pull their economies up. World.

would lose their voting rights and gold roughly equivalent to their original contribution to the IMF could be sold if they did not meet their obligations.

The Group of 24, which repre sents third world countries, said in a statement that suspending voting rights "will not serve a useful purpose and is not accept-

Regarding German unification. the Group of Seven said it "would contribute to improved non-inflationary global growth and to a reduction of external

However, most private economists worry that plans to give the East German mark equal value in many instances with the West German mark will add to inflation worldwide, pushing interest rates higher.

The group also supported the one-year-old U.S. plan for attacking the Third World's 1.3 trillion debt burden.

'(We) were encouraged by the substantial progress which has been achieved (by the plan)," the statement said

But that's not likely to satisfy developing nations. They argue for a rethinking of the debt tries who are about 4 billion strategy and a huge increase in the IMF's capital base so it can provide money to both the fledgling democracies of Eastern would be used to help the coun- Europe and the poor of the Third

OPEC output cut pledges uncertain'

North African states

ALGIERS (R) — Transport ministers from five North African states approved a draft agreement Sunday to form a joint airline, the Algerian News Agency (APS) said.

The airline, dubbed Air Maghreb, would start alongside the existing carriers of Algeria, Libya, Mauritania, Morocco and Tunisia, which formed a regional economic grouping last year.

Officials have said the airline would start by serving selected cities within the region and gradually absorb routes, planes and

The ultimate goal, agreed at a two-day ministers' meeting in

Algiers, is a regional giant able to compete with European carriers that now dominate the heavy tourist, migrant worker and business

APS said directors of the five airlines - Air Algeria, Libyan

Arab Airlines, Air Mauritanie, Royal Air Maroc and Tunis Air -

would meet in Casablanca June 5 to finalise the new airline's

They would also discuss plans to begin integrating the airlines

The five airlines agreed last week in Tunis to recognise each other's tickets automatically, share revenue on some lines, service

The ministers also discussed plans to expand the region's rail network to stretch from the Libyan city of Tobruk in the east to

They agreed that a first set would be construction of a new line

The ministers agreed to work toward cutting the train travel time between Tunis and Casablanca to 30 hours from around 38 now, each other's planes and run joint training programmes

from Stax in Tunisia to the Libyan capital of Tripoli.

and to study the introduction of high-speed trains.

Mauritanian capital of Nouakchott in the west.

and coordinate equipment purchases, maintenance, training and crews of the five existing carriers.

traffic to and from North Africa.

insurance coverage, the agency said.

to form joint airline pledges by some producers to curb production as part of an OPEC-wide cutback to shore up oil prices look dubious, even a cut of one million barrels per day may do the trick, the Middle East Economic

Commenting on the agreement at last week's Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) meeting in Geneva to cut total output by OPEC by 1.445 million barrels per day (BPD), MEES said a reduction of 800,000 to one probably something between 800,000 and one million BPD of the proposed OPEC output reduction looks reasonably solid, while the rest lies in a grey area which does not inspire a great deal of confidence," the Nicosia-based oil industry newsletter said.

March), the Geneva agree ly have a salutary effect."

BPD in the first half of 1990.

OPEC's excess output came from the big three Gulf producers, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and the United Arab Emirates (UAE).

200,000 BPD.

MEES said another source of uncertainty was Venezuela's crude oil output capacity test planned for July, despite pledges by Venezuelan authoritis that any oil produced above its quota would go into stor-

The oil industry newsletter. said that in order to give the Geneva pact a more immediate impact, the agreement requires OPEC members to cut wellhead crude output, although OPEC quotas are generally based on exports and deliveries to domestic refineries.

"In this way it is hoped that June-July," MEES said.

HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR Tuesday May 8, 1990 By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Foundation

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a perfect day for you to sort through just what your particular emotional problem is and to figure out how it can be handled in a sensible and well rounded fashion.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) Communications with a good suits but after this make sure that you don't get in an argument that

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Put into motion at earliest possible moment a plan to do something at your outside vocational tasks to enhance property by some modern

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) You have much charm and magnetism and can express it best in the morning while later you find that disappointments can occur with associates and a friend.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Spend the early hours at some behind the scenes pleasure that starts the day right for you, then make sure you don't shore boredom at projects. LEO: (July 22 to August 21) Listen to advice given by a logical minded friend, then you will be able to top more readily put into motion that talent you want so much to ex-

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) Do what requires action in worldly matters early for then it will be best for you to continu most conscientionsly with whateer vocational tasks are yours.

LIBRA: (September 23 to October 22) Whatever advaned interest has come into your life can be de-veloped in the morning for late usual activities can be uppermost as things for you to finish.

SCORPIO: (October 23 to Novem ber 21) Consider well how to smooth over some tension about an obligation to which you are committed later in day after early ability at seeing situation clearly. SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) You understand early a pretty scatterbrained person and can handle that individual better later avoid because you can get irked, make wrong moves. CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) Pitch in early at important activities to be put in motion. then continue them with steadfastness even though you are eager to get off to the new.

AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) If you have some risk you want to take so do early in the day for later you should be engaged in concentrating on performing a ta-

PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) You are apt to have considerable irritation as the day passes about some condition at your residence, but consider and bandle in an impersonal way.

Egypt raises prices, but more yet to come

By Ashraf Fonad Reuter

CAIRO -- Egypt, risking social unrest, has raised some energy and food prices to clinch a badlyneeded deal with the International Monetary Fund (IMF), but economists said Monday the bulk of economic reforms were yet to

"The big one will come when they devalue the (Egyptian) pound against the dellar," one economist said.

Egypt has over the past week more than coubled butane gas prices, increased petrol and other oil products prices by up to 60 per cent and raised prices for several desic loog items, Government officials, fearing unrest similar to food riots in 1977 which forced Cairo to cancel price hikes, said the new prices remained below international

But the economists said proposed IMF reforms included harsher measures which would have wider effects on the country's stagnant economy and its 55 million people, for whom the government imports more than half th food they eat.

"Raising prices, deposit and exchange rates would be too many inflationary measures which the economy cannot take in one go." Oxford-educated economist Murad Wahba said.

The main obstacle in Egypt's two years of talks with the IMF has been speed of implementing politically and socially-sensitive reforms.

"The government can not risk implementing all reforms at one go because of possible political upheavals," said Wahba, an economics professor at the American University in Cairo.

President Hosni Mubarak warned last week that Cairo could no longer afford to subsidise basic goods as the population grew by a million every eight months. He put annual imports at $10 billion, while foreign currency revenue was only about six

He said a deal with the IMF was needed. "There is no way out and we will have to endure." He put subsidies, a legacy of the socialist policies of late President Gamal Abdul Nasser, at 3.6 biltion pounds ($1.4 billion).

The economists said the IMF was seeking an "actual flotation" of the Egyptian currency and a rise in interest rates to combat inflation running at an annual rate of more than 30 per cent.

Cairo has gradually raised the dollar's value over the past year by about 15 plasters to around 2.67 pounds, but bankers said the IMF was demanding an exchange rate of more than three pounds. Cairo was offering 2.80 pounds to the dollar, they said.

Capital flight from Hong Kong soars

HONG KONG (R) - Hong Kong's main financial institution says it has detected what is almost certainly a significant increase in capital flight from the jittery Brith colony which reverts to Chinese rule in 1997.

The Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation's latest monthly economic report said it estimated a net outflow of private non-trade capital of around 22.4 billion dollars (2.8 billion U.S. dollars) in 1989.

It said this was at least partly in response to Peking's bloody suppression of the pro-democracy movement last June. Hong Kong's confidence in the crackdown despite Chinese pledges that Peking had no intention of changing the territory's freewheeling capitalist system.

Emigration soared as Chinese officials angrily attacked plans to introduce limited democratic reform in Hong Kong and a British plan to grant 50,000 key personnel and their families British passports as a safety net.

Hong Kong does not publish detailed current account statistics in its overall balance of payments figures, making it hard to estimate accurately the amount of private capital leaving the colony.

But analysts have for a long time described capital outflow as one of the black holes of the

The Hongkong bank's chief economist and the man behind the report is Alan McLean, once senior economist with the govern-

Statistics for what is called private non-trade inflow and outflow, which effectively represent private capital coming in and out of Hong Kong, showed a regular inflow up until 1983, when the balance was 3.3 billion dollars (423 million U.S. dollars), the Annual net capital outflows of between two billion ($256 miltion) to nine billion dollars (1.15 billion U.S. dollars) from 1983 to 1988 were detected, it said.

The significant increase in net capital outflow in 1989 was the result of a loss of confidence in the future prospects of the economy and can be expected to continue until confidence is restored, the bank said. If the outflow were to persist, a large surplus on trade in goods and services would be required to finance it, which could in turn restrain the growth rate of the economy, the bank said.

The bank recorded a net outflow of 8.9 billion dollars (1.14 billion U.S. dollars) in 1984, the year Britain and China signed the agreement governing the territory's return to Peking.

More than one million BPD of Survey (MEES) said Monday.

million BPD was possible.

"It might be fair to say that

But it added that "if on top of the estimated decline in April output (to 23.5 million BPD from 24 million in ment does succeed in removing even a million BPD of actual volume from the market in May-June, this will undoubted-

OPEC's 13 members had agreed last week to make the cuts in the May-June period, from an estimated 23.5 million BPD in April, to help crude market prices recover from a drop of more than 25 per cent since January.

But the agreement did not convince oil markets that excess oil will disappear and prices fell further after last Thursday's pact.

OPEC had agreed to keep its output at 22.086 million

MEES said the sceptics were questioning the extent of comhiance to the Geneva pact by Kuwait and the UAE.

Kuwait agreed to cut its output to its quota level of 1.5 million BPD from its current 1.9 million and the UAE had declared its output at 2.1 million BPD and said it would cut

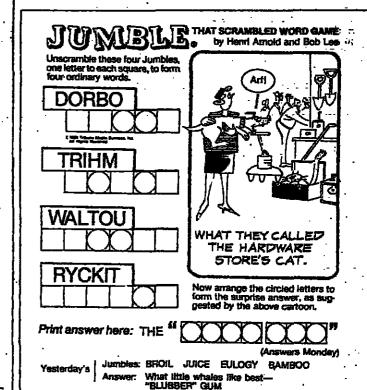

The UAE refuses to honour its OPEC quota, claiming its allocations were too small for the size of its reserves and production capacities.

"The credibility of Saudi Arabia's declared return to quota is nowhere called into uestion,"-MEES said. Saudi Arabia said it would lower output immediately to its OPEC quota level of 5.38 million BPD from an estimated 5.81 million.

the effect of the OPEC volume restraint will start to make itself felt in May rather than in

THE BETTER HALF, By Harris HARRIS "It's called 'Cardboard Seasoning.

It makes homemade burgers taste like the fast-food kind."

3 in Asia expected to lead world's growth

By John Pomfret Associated Press

NEW DELHI - Despite the rush to finance Eastern Europe's trr formation to a market econ iny. Asia is expected to maintain its position as the world's fastest growing region. Asian Development Bank economists said Monday.

News reports predicting a drop in Asian economic performance because of changes in the Soviet Bloc are "overblown," said Malcoim Dowling, assistant chief economist at the Asian Development Bank.

"Asia is still the place to make money," said Hakchung Cheo, the bank's chief economist. "That won't change."

The bank officials spoke at a news conference marking the start of the bank's 23rd annual meeting and the release of its annual report on economic de-

In the report, the bank criticised China for abandoning ambitious economic reforms. called on India to open its closed markets, praised Vietnam for economic liberalisation and warned that the Philippines' economy faced underlying weaknesses."

Falling growth rates in China. India and two of the four "little dragons," Hong Kong and South Korea, brought Asia's regional growth rate to 5.4 per cent in 1989, down from 9.3 per cent in 1988, the report said.

The report predicted a rebound in region-wide growth to 5.9 per cent for 1990 and 6.3 per cent in 1991, compared to an expected growth rate of 2.9 per cent worldwide for those

Main challenges

One of the main challenges to Asian growth will be the economic integration of Western Europe in 1992, the report

"Improved efficiency within the European Community will make its products more competitive with imported products and this will tend to dampen prospects for trade with Asia," the report said.

Other challenges could come from Eastern Europe in its competition with Asia for loans from development institutions and commercial

But Dowling and Choo said they believed such a possibility was slight. Dowling said Eastern Europe's total population of about 160 million people and its limited area restrict its ability to "absorb huge amounts of capital. Asia also has never relied heavily on the concessionary, or low-interest, loans sought by East European countries. With 65 per cent of the world's population, Asia consumes 30 per cent of the concessionary loans. Choo said. The economists and the report said Asia would be able to maintain its economic lead if its member countries further embraced free-market forces and introduced newer technol-

But China and India were criticised for failing to open their economies to the outside world.

China saw its economic growth rate fall from almost 11 per cent in 1988 to four per cent last year, the report said. blaming the drop on an austerity programme carried out by

The report called on Peking to "push the unfinished agenda of economic reform forward." Choo said it was "anybody's guess" what would happen in Peking because the Communist Party and government lead-hard-line Premier Li Peng.

ership appear more concerned with political control of the people than with economic development. "This question goes beyond economics," he said. Last June, Chinese troops killed hundreds of demonstrators and launched a bloody crackdown on a movement for freedom. Since then, the Asian Development Bank has stopped all loans to Peking, freezing $490 million for six pro-

The report predicted that China's growth rate would rise a bit to 5.5 per cent in 1990 and hit a healthy 6.5 per cent the year after. As a corollary to this, it forecast that Hong Kong's growth, which fell from 7.3 per cent in 1988 to 3.6 per cent in 1989, would continue its fall until 1991.

India must relax constraints on free market activity for sustained growth to occur, the report said. Last year, India's growth rate fell to 4.5 per cent, down from 9,5 per cent in

Restrictive economic policies protect India's major industries from competition from abroad. The lack of competition allows production of shoddy goods to continue, along with close, and often corruption, relations between business and government. Last week, the United States left India as the sole country on sanctions if it does not reform its policies. The Asian Development Bank report called for such changes, saying that under India's current programme "the innovative spirit of the private section is, to some extent, repressed and a competitive busi-

a "hit list" for unfair trading practices. India faces economic

It predicted growth in India would rise slightly to 5.4 per cent in 1990. The report said Vietnam was notable for its market-oriented reforms and predicted that its ness environment not enstrong 8.2 per cent growth rate would continue this year.

Growth in the Philippines is expected to fall in 1990 to five per cent from six per cent in 1989, the report said. Political instability, resulting from last year's coup attempt, and high interest rates are the major limiting factors, it said.

ECONOMY NEWS IN BRIEF

Libya makes major oil strikes

NICOSIA (AP) - Libya has made two major oil discoveries in the Bu Attifel field with preliminary estimates indicating the deposits contain the equivalent of 800 million barrels of crude, the Middle East Economic Survey reported Monday. The oil industry newsletter, published in Cyprus, said the first discovery was made last month 30 kilometres east of Bu Attifel in the Sirte Basin. The strike was made in a sandstone formation at a depth of around 5,500 metres, one of the deepest wells rallied in the region, the weekly survey reported. The well tested at 11,000 barrels a day, it said. Preliminary estimates of reserves were put at around 300 million barrels. The second strike was further south and tested at 5,000 barrels a day, MEES said. Preliminary estimates there were at least 500 million barrels. Bu Attifel is operated by Italy's Agip Oil Company. Production at the field over the last 17 years has totalled some 900 million barrels a day.

Egypt price hikes to save $355 m

CAIRO (R) - Price rises for petrol and kerosene announced Sunday would save the Egyptian treasury 950 million pounds ($355 million) a year, oil minister Abdul-Hadi Kandeel said in remarks published Monday. Kandeel told Cairo newspapers that despite the price hikes of between 40 and 60 per cent annual government subsidies on consumer oil products would still amount to about one billion pounds ($374 million). The price rises were further moves by Egypt to implement economic reforms demanded by the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

AMMAN EXCHANGE RATES

Monday, May 7, 1990

668.0 1111.2

672.0 1117.9 404.6 467.3

French franc

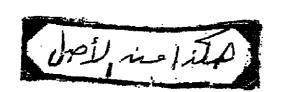

Japanese yen (for 100) 423.1 425.6
Dutch guilder 357.7 359.8
Swedish crown 110.4 111.1
Italian Bra (for 100) 54.9 55.2
Belgian franc (for 10) 194.8 196.0

DOWN

1 Applaud
2 Whip
3 It wine city
4 Mai de — 5 Nutritional

THE Daily Crossword by June J. Book 1 Vise
6 Adages
10 Expansive 14 Medical to 15 Intrigue
16 Winglike 19 London gallery Key letter GWTW locale bees
31 Naval prison
32 Robin's home
36 Skirt type 37 Cash
38 Sandarac tree 38 Sendarac tree
39 Equal
40 Lulu
41 Overdone
42 Dells
44 Of uneven quality 45 Puss. um 48 Norse god
49 Desert basins
50 Temporary "gift"
51 Youth gp.
54 Actor Alan
55 Seer
58 Ripped 59 Perry won here
60 Certain group Dele's
opposite Military |

Seer Alas and Composer Stair part 18 Lovers' — 23 Flight from law
24 Seer
25 More cunning 29 Sez eagles 31 Gaffe 33 QED word

Gardner triumphs in Spanish

Grand Prix PREZ. Squir (R) — Australia's Wayne Gardner issuncted a furious attack on Wayne Rainey of the U.S. to win the 500cc Spanish

motorcycling Grand Prix Sunday. Gardner seized the lead from Raincy on the 19th lap of the 29-jap race and forged ahead to win by seven seconds and moveinto second piace permu American in the world championship standings has been Rainey piloted his Yamaha intu su early lead in the 122 322-km race, with 1987 world champion Gardner and American Kevin Schwantz in punsuit. Gurdner, chasing hard on his Honda; narrowed the advantage and cut inside Rainey on a sharp surve to take the lead. The Australian stretched away, with Raincy apparently unwilling to take risks. Gardner clinched his 16th grand prix victory in 52 minutes 58.021 seconds at an average speed of 138.564 KPH, with 20 to the Rainey second and Schwantz have third on his Suzuki Australian ie day to Michael Dochan, who started in pole position, was fourth.

"It's a nice feeling to be back," said Gardner, whose confidence had taken a blow after spills at last month's U.S. Grand Prix in Laguna Seca and practice in

"It looked at times as if things weren't going to work."
Rainey, still 20 points clear in the world championship standings, was unruffled by defeat. I had my mind made up to just ride my own race, he said, denying he had shied from taking risks. "Wayne just rode better I

WITH OMAR SHARIF & TANNAH HIRSCH

Both vulnerable. South deals,

EAST

0 10 14 g ... 0 27.5 2 m g 4 9 8 5 3 4 10 6 SOUTH

♥ K 97432

Opening lead: King of The Winter Regional was the one tournament Trump Coup Tommy refused to miss. Over the years, he found there were always one or two-hands that suited his peculiar talent—the ability to play like a genius when trumps broke badly. The 1989 event proved to be especially

An expert might have had a prob-lem bidding the South hand, but not Frump Coup Tommy. Despite his shabby suit, he opened with a de-mand bid of two hears, then bounced straight into slam when

. West led the king of spades and

O A X 3

NORTH

V 0 3 5 # QJ74

ng.' ste

Bob Lee

LED RE T.

letters to f, as sur toon.

s Mondeli ;00

GOREN BRIDGE

A TRIUMPH FOR TOMMY

Graf struggles fourth but wins title of the year points standings.

and I played very well."

In other games, unseeded Kelly Jones of the United States

outlasted seventh-seeded Richard

Fromberg of Australia in a third-set tiebreaker 7-4 Sunday, successfully defending his Epson

Singapore super tennis cham-

The 26-year-old from San Diego took 2½ hours to defeat

Fromberg, 6-4, 2-6, 7-6. and be-many rallied after dropping the first set to beat Arantxa Sanchez-Vicario of Spain 5-7, 6-0, 6-1, Sunday, winning the $350,000 Citizen Cup for her fourth straight tournament victory.

Graf, the top-ranked player in the world, needed more than two hours in hot weather and on slow red clay to fight off a stiff challenge from the French Open champion, ranked fourth in the world.

"I didn': expect Arantxa to play as well as she did," Graf said. "She didn't miss a ball in the first three games. But I played more intelligently after the first set and everything went right. I played much better."

The German teepager seemed to playing below her normal level in the opening set. After losing her first two service games of the match, twice she was a point away from trailing 0-4. But both times she forced Sanchez-Vicario into an error to win the point.

Graf appeared to settle at that point, breaking Sanchez-Vicario's and holding to get withing 2-3. But Graf's forchand was erratic and Sanchez-Vicario

Then it was Sanchez-Vicario's turn to commit errors, doublefaulting to give Graf break point, which Graf won with a powerful serve, double-faulting to even the set at 5-5. But Graf, still strugging with her forehand, dropped her serve in the 11th game and then the set.

The match completely changed in the second set, however, as Graf suddenly found her range

Tommy was about to claim after winning the ace of spades and leading a trump to the queen. East's spade discard was a rude joit and might have daunted a declarer of lesser ability under these circumstances, but Tommy refused to low-declarer played three rounds of clubs, ending in dummy. When East discarded a spade, it was safe for

Tommy to ruff a club. Three rounds of diamonds ending on the table

SOUTH

Dummy's spade was led, and when Tommy ruffed with the king,

West was a goner. He could over-ruff, but then was forced to lead away from his ten into the combined 1-9 tenace.

NORTH

♥ A 10 8

(AP) - Steffi Graf of West Ger- could not longer chase every ball. secutive titles at the $250,000 Graf won the set 3-0 in 34

After splitting the opening sets, minutes but was still pushed to reduce in five of the six games. Jones took an early advantage in But Graf again dropped her serve at the start of the final set to the third, winning the opening game off Fromberg's service. give Sanchez-Vicario hope. Both players beld service until However, Graf immediately Jones, leading 5-4 and serving for broke back and did not lose the match, lost the 10th game another game. without winning a point.

Fromberg took a 6-5 lead with The victory was Graf's fourth title of the year and moves her his ninth ace of the match. But back into first place in the tour Jones held serve and the two matched each other in the tiebreaker 4-4 on long baseline rallies until Fromberg's volleys fell "I had many chances but I didn't have the luck," said Sanchez-Vicario, who eliminated

Fromberg started with two aces Martina Navratilova in the semiin the opening game of the match, but Jones broke the 20finals. "She played so much better in the third set but I'm happy because I had a good tournament year-old Australian in the fifth game. Jones held serve the remainder of the set, including an "I've worked very hard and my game has improved a lot. Now I ace in the 10th game before wrapneed to work some more to get to ping up the set. Fromberg railied in the second set against a visibly tired Jones. He broke Jones service in the second game, aced him in the third game, and then broke him again in the eighth.

Third-seeded Australians Mark Kratzmann and Jason Stoltenberg won the doubles title, defeating countrymen Brad Drewer and Todd Woodbridge, 6-1 6.0.

Capriati overpowers Laskova

ROME (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Jennifer Capriani of the United States looked strong in her European professional debut Monday, overpowering Czechos-lovakian Leona Laskova 6-0, 6-3 in the first round of the Italian

Playing on centre court of the Foro Italico, the no. 12-seeded Capriati needed just 50 minutes to dispatch her overmatched

After nearly blowing Laskova off the court in the first set, the hard hitting Capriati let the Czechoslovak take a 2-1 lead in the second

"In the second set, I lost a bit of concentration at the beginning, and she started playing better, Capriati said.

The lapse did not last long. Serving at 1-2, she sharpened up her powerful groundstrokes and resumed hitting winners down the line and cross court from the baseline to win five of the next six games and close out the match. In another match involving a seeded player, no. 11 Helen Kelesi of Canada defeated Australia's Jo-Anne Faull 6-4, 6-1.

European gold medals ATHENS (R) - All-round lia Kalinina and another newcomchampion Svetlana Boginskaya of cr, Mirela Pasca of Romania.

the Soviet Union won four more gold medals in individual exercises Sunday to complete a triumphant performance in the women's European gymnastics championships.

Boginskaya, who said after taking the all-round crown Saturday that she would retire in August because she was too old for the sport at 17, extended her golden successes firstly in the vault, her 1988 Olympic winning apparatus.

On the asymmetric bars, the apparatus on which she had never won a medal, she was relaxed and graceful, sharing first place with up-and-coming team mate Nata-

Soviet wins four more

After passing her toughest test, Boginskaya then gave two brilliant performances On the beam, the 1989 world and European all-round champion produced three immaculate backwards vaults, plus a triple backwards-ending one. On the floor, Boginskaya performed an improved exercise to complete her quartet of golds.

Kalinina, virtually unknown before Saturday when she took the all-round silver medal, scored a superb second place on the beam to prove her worth in the absence of injured Soviet gymnasts Olga Strageva, Natalya Lashcheno-

Furnished Ground Floor Flat.

For Rent

Situated at the most beautiful and quiet areas of Abdoun

A fully furnished apartment that consists of the following:- Large

L-shaped salons/sitting and dining rooms, two bedrooms with two complete bathrooms, large kitchen with all accessories spacious verandas, private two car garage with a big garden.

For detailed information contact tel: 814850 - 815780

Telephone/ TV/ Video/ Stereo/ heating, etc., available

The 1989 European asymmetric bars champion Henrietta Onodi of Hungary would have repeated the feat with her siwft and difficult exercise but carelessly touched the floor with a foot and dropped to last place. The petite, tearful Onodi, who missed the all-round silver by 2 thousandth of a point, overtimed on the beam but saved her day by taking joint third spot on the Abdoun and many other loca For more information

please call Abdoun Real Estate PREVIOUSLY Wael Real Estate Tel: 810609, 810603

FOR RENT IN ABDOON SEMI-DETACHED VILLA

Nice residential area-duplex, semi-detached, three bedrooms, ready to use telephone, all wall to wall brand new carpets, semi-furnished, small garden in front and back, low running energy and water costs.

Contact owner direct at tel: 641089 or fax: 642422 mornings from 9:30 a.m. till 1:00 p.m. and from 3:30 p.m. till 6:00 p.m.

FOR SALE

- General Electric washing machine, 9 kg, new motor,
- Electric stove with 4 cooking heads, not used. Small microwave stove, not used.

For more information please call 664475, Amman.

A FOREIGN MAID NEEDED

To work for a Jordanian family and live them.

For information pis. call tel. 621807

Modern Furnished Apartment For Rent

in the best residential area, between the Fourth and Fifth Circles, Jabel Amman, near Amon Hotel "Hotel Training Centre." With telephone, central heating, built-in cupboards and television. Two badrooms, large living room, two bathrooms and Tel: 777112, 8 a.m.-1 p.m., 874028 after 2 p.m.

cts, marketing personnel and a secretary

Architects, Designers,

Due to further controlled expansion we are looking for

Up to international standards. Experienced in their Demanding and rewarding jobs where the objectives are met in a professional manner and where our

MedDesign is an international consulting office situ

Our services comprise total project packages of DESIGN, MAPIKETING AND MANAGEMENT.

in Ammen with branches in Denmark, England and Spain.

se send your application enclosed your C.V. lo:

Marketing personnel,

Secretary

Qualifications

MedDesign P. C. Box 92 59 71, Amman

We offer

field. Ablitties to work within a team.

Jordan Medical Aid for Palestinians

Souk Baladi Souk Baladi Souk Baladi Souk Baladi

Khirbat Abu Jaber Friday 11 / 5 / 1990

For Walkers and non Walkers

For the whole Family

Come and spend Friday at "Souk Baladi" Khirbat Abu Jaber / Al-Yadudah.

From 11:00 a.m to 7:00 p.m.

- * Free Entrance
- * Light Lunch outdoors .
- * Enjoy the wide range of the traditional products of our country & have lots of fun & entertainment. Come & meet our famous
- * Shop from our big varieties of specially homemade foods.

For more information please call 611065 Riyadh Centre 2nd floor Jabal Amman 3rd Circle noteworthy.

NEEDED IMMEDIATELY

Hotel Jordan Inter.Continental

SECRETARY: Female, Jordanian with excellent command of English and Arabic, typing in both languages, and knowledge of word processor preferable. Attractive salary

Please apply in person to Human Resources office with written C.V. between 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Tel: 625155 RAINBOW Mel Gibson Michelle Pfeiffer TEQUILA SUNRISE

CONCORD

Tel: 634144 PHILADELPHIA

Cinema MUOUM Happy Eld Al Fitt and Many Happy Returns

Adel Imam... in Hanafi the Great (Hanafi Al Ubbahah)

Performances: 3:30, 6:15, 8:30, 10:30 Friday & Sunday extra show at 11:00 a.m.

Cinema

PLAZA

Tel: 699238

Hangmen

Tel: 675571

LITTLE WEAPON

Performances: 3:30, 6:15, 8:30, 10:30

CDU slips in E. German local elections, but stays top party

EAST BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's top political party lost support in the nation's first free local elections, and the country's new prime minister said Monday he wants to find out why.

Prime Minister Lothar de Maiziere said "a review of party policy will be conducted" to determine why his Christian Democrats had lost support since East Germany's national elections, reported Radio Free Berlin, based in West Berlin.

The Christian Democrats, leaders of East Germany's governing coalition, finished Sunday's elections with about 7 per cent less support than in national elections on March 18.

In the Sunday balloting, East Germans chose a city councilman from West Germany as mayor of Leipzig, East Germany's secondlargest city, early projections in-

Local issues dominated individual races, so it was unclear if any dissatisfaction with the rush to unite the two Germanys was a factor in the results.

Despite suffering setbacks, De Maiziere's conservative party captured the most local govern-ment seats, followed by the leftleaning Social Democrats, according to West German television (ARD) projections.

The reformed Communist Party, now called the Party of Democratic Socialism, finished a distant third, the projections found.

Heinrich Lehmann-Grube, a city council member from the West German city of Hanover, won his campaign for mayor of Leipzig, television projections in-

Lehmann-Grube holds dual East and West German citizenship. Since he became an East German citizen only last month, he was not allowed to vote in the election. However, anyone who is an East German citizen over the age of 18 can be elected to

It was not immediately clear whether Lehmann-Grube would resign from the Hanover City

The parties' performances generally reflected the results of the March national elections, when East Germany's first democratic government was elected. However, De Maiziere's Christian Democrats took only about 34 per cent of the vote in local races, according to projections by the ARD television network, down from the 41 per cent they gained in March.

The social Democrats were the national elections, and the Christian Democrats' losses appeared to have been distributed among a group of smail, specialised parties. The Social Democrats, howevholding much the same total as in er, captured the two largest cities East Berlin and Leipzig, the ARD projections showed.

Sunday's turnout was about 80 per cent, short of the 93 per cent who voted in the March elections. About 250,000 people from 62 parties ran for more than 20,000 councils and municipal posts in 7,784 cities, districts, towns and villages. About 12.4 million East Germans were eligible to vote.

The local balloting effectively gives local communities control of their hometown governments and bureaucracies after four decades of centralised Communist

Far-right groups were kept off the ballots and foreigners for the first time were allowed to take part. Radicals plastered leaflets across the country during the night before the voting, calling for an election boycott.

De Maiziere voted Sunday in his home district in East Berlin The balloting followed wideand called the elections the spread clashes in East Berlin "second important test of demothe night before between rightwing radicals and foreign workcracy in the country." ers. Eight people were reported arrested and five were injured.

The elections likely were the last for East Germany as a Walter Berghofer, who was sovereign state. Unification with West Germany is expected to be elected as Communist mayor of completed next year. Dresden in 1986 in elections that were widely presumed to be rig-ged, lost a bid to hang onto his office, the projections indicated.

second free election in East Germany's four-decade history and brought the revolt against Stalin-

May 7, 1989, the Communist government had claimed that candidates it backed won 99 per eventually exploded into the mass demonstrations that ousted hard-line Communist leader Erich

Honecker in October and opened the March elections by promising prosperity to East Germans through a fast merger with West

Germany and a quick shift to a

Since then, there have been widespread fears that East Germans will suffer unemployment and lower living standards when they lose their vast Socalist sub-

The Christian Democrats won

The protests that followed

In the last local elections on ist oppression full circle.

cent of the vote.

the Berlin Wall.

free market economy.

Sunday's voting was only the Kashmiri militants close Srinagar as government officials arrive widely observed general strike called by Kashmiri militants fighting to be free of Indian rule virtually shut down Srinagar Monday as government officials of Jammu and Kashmir state arrived for the summer. The officials of India's only Muslim-majority state arrived over the weekend from Jammu. the winter capital on the edge of the north Indian plain, without their families and under heavy

The state government moves in May to cool Srinagar, centre of the Himalayan Kashmir Valley, to escape the plains heat.

This year the move has greatly worried the officials, the majority of whom are Hindu. Strikes and demonstrations in Jammu pre-

Officials said they had left their families behind in Jammu, fearing they could become the targets of militants, whose long-running agitation against Indian rule exploded into an uprising in mid-. January.

More than 300 people have been killed since. On Monday, most shops were closed and only government transport - much of it heavily guarded convoys taking the officials to work - was on the streets.

offered protection if they would open their shops, but there were no immediate signs that any were taking advantage of the offer. Normally heavy security was reinforced, with new roadblocks and sandbagged positions sealing all roads entering the city, the centre of the uprising. Hotels and government dormitories where the officials were staying their arrival over the weekend were also under heavy The militants want either a re-united, independent Kashmir - Pakistan now controls onethird of the disputed territory or they want the Indian-ruled part of Kashmir to join Pakistan. Their campaign subsided in April during a three-week curfew.

Curfew breaks of up to 10 hours have been allowed during the past two weeks, but in recent days militant activity has increased significantly, police siad. They said militants attacked security patrols in the teeming old city of Srinagar Sunday. Militant spokesmen claimed more than 20 security men were killed in the Police said only one had been over the weekend.

killed, along with a woman who died in hospital after being hit in India blames Pakistan for the uprising, saying Islamabad arms and trains the militants in its part of Kashmir. Pakistan denies the charge, which has led to heated exchanges and fears of a fourth war between the two countries.

The neighbours have fought two wars already over Kashmir. New Delhi has told Islamabad it would do whatever was necessary to stem an alleged flow of militants and arms from the Pakistan side into the Kashmir Valley, if Pakistan did not. It refused to rule out force.

Snow is melting in the high Himalayan passes through which newly trained rebels enter the

Indian police said there had been a surge in clashes between paramilitary security forces and militants over the past few days in the north and the northwest parts of the valley, where some routes lead down from the mountain

They said militants for the first time had used rocket-propelled grenades against security forces in battles that killed 22 militants and two paramilitary troopers cent from 20 per cent last month.

The survey of 1,082 voters at 54

locations Friday showed Labour with 47 per cent support, the

E. German minister wins political beauty contest

Charles shows off

URBINO, Italy (AP) - Prince

Charles humbly showed off his watercolour sketches Sunday in the House of Raphael, the Re-naissance artist. "I still can't believe that amateur sketching will go on display in Raphael's house," the Prince of Wales said at the invitation-only unveiling of 57 of his watercolours. "I only hope the great master doesn't turn in his grave," Charles said in brief remarks to inaugurate the show in the house where Raffaello Sanzio was was born in 1483.

The Raphael Academy is hosting

the exhibit, which lasts until June

14. The exhibit was described as Charles' first public display of his artwork outside the United Kingdom. Charles drew the sketches of scenes that charmed him during his travels, including the Tuscan countryside, a sandy scene in Saudi Arabia and places in Scotiand and Hong Kong.

his sketches

EAST BERLIN (R) - Not previously noted for their physical charms, male East German cabinet ministers found themselves contestants in a television. beauty contest during coverage of the country's first free local elections Sunday. State television presenters, indulging in an un-usual form of political analysis, invited the public to phone in their choice for East Germany's aircraft have failed. A rival British expedition from Siberia gave

Chinese, Soviet and U.S. climbers reach top of Everest up about a week ago.

PEKING (R) — A joint expedition of Chinese, Soviet and U.S. climbers who had planned to celebrate "Earth Day" by conquering Everest together finally reached the summit Monday, 15 days late because of bad weather. The official New China News Agency said two climbers from each country made it to the top of the 29,028-foot (8,848-metre) mountain from the Chinese side in Tibet early in the afternoon. The team planned to clear up piles of rubbish left on the world's

Man jailed after

PARKERSBURG, West Virginia (AP) - A penny saved may be a penny earned, but Gary Wagner only earned time in jail when he tried to use pennies to pay a $141 fine. He spent three hours in the Wood county jail for contempt. County Magistrate Charles "Ed" Plum levied the fine early this year after Wagner pleaded guilty to battery after shoving a neighbour. Monday was his deadline for paying the fine, and he showed up jugging 12 canvas bags filled with pennies. The magistrate on duty, Margaret Monroe, told Wagner he had to collect the pennies in to rolls of 50. After they argued awhile, Mouroe called Plum into the courtroom, and he told Wagner the same thing. When Wagner again refused, Plum cited him for contempt and fined him $150. Wagner, 33, refused a third request to put the pennies into rolls. Plum hit him with a 10-day jail term, saying it would give him time to wrap up the change. Wagner's parents paid the $141 three hours after he was jailed.

Roh asks S. Koreans to help prevent nation from 'chaos'

SEOUL (AP) - President Roh Tae-Woo asked South Koreans Monday to help prevent the nation from slipping into "chaos" but radical students stormed his party's headquarters, firebombed a provincial party office and clashed with police in six cities.

The radical National Council of Student Representatives and the People's Alliance, an umbrella alliance of 17 dissident groups, announced new nationwide protests aimed at forcing the governing Democratic Liberal Party to disband. The group urged citizens to join them.

Security was being stepped up around government office buildings to guard against surprise attacks in connection with a governing party convention to be held Wednesday, according to the National Police Headquar-nationwide television from the presidential palace, 21 radical students seized his party's headquarters and fought off riot police for 10 minutes with firebombs and metal pipes, police and witnesses said.

As Roh was speaking on ness interests.

The radicals barricaded themselves inside a third-floor office. broke the office windows and threw firebombs at police while shouting anti-government slogans, witnesses said.

Korean news reports said the group scattered leaflets demanding the ouster of U.S. Ambassador Donald P. Gregg.

The current governing party was formed by a merger, announced in January, of Roh's party and two conservative opposition parties, and radicals claim Gregg devised the merger to serve conservative U.S. busi-

vide Stinger missiles, the Florida source said. More than two pounds (a kilogram) of cocaine and one personal weapon were seized in that arrest, the source machine guns in a plot to assassinate President Virgilio Baro.

ABC said representatives of Colombia's Medellin cartel had been travelling in Florida in recent weeks offering up to $6

The windshields of three cars in an outdoor parking lot were shattered by firebombs and some furniture in the governing party offices was smashed, police said. Five students were injured and all 21 were arrested, police and news reports said.

Radical students algo fought police outside university campuses in Kwangju, Muan, Punchon, Yongin and two small towns outside Seoul, according to (Yonhap, the South Korean news agency. About 2,500 students took part, it said. There were no reports of arrests or injuries.

Ten radical students hurled firebombs and smashed windows at the Wonju City chapter of the governing party and fled before police arrived, Yonhap said

Radical students are a small but vocal minority and many Koreans do not approve of their

mer last year, the Voice of America and American publications dities that opposed China's Communist Party and socialism and attacked our government's efforts to put down turmoil," the official newspaper said.

"At the same time, reports on the real situation during the tur-moil were blocked," it added. The commentary also said press freedom in the United States was designed to serve the ruling class and that only Socialist press freedom had the interest of the masses at heart.

China condemns Western press freedoms

PEKING (R) - China Monday renewed its attack on the Voice of America (VOA), accusing the U.S. government radio of opposing the Communist Party and socialism during political unrest last June.

The People's Daily, in a lengthy commentary, also accused unnamed U.S. publications of spreading counter-revolutionary runours.

"During the counterrevolutionary rebellion at the end disseminated rumours and absur-

Thatcher gains support from lawmakers, but not public minister should leave before the ter Margaret Thatcher's popularnext election, which must be held ity among Conservative Party by mid-1992.

lawmakers rose after last week's elections, but 64 per cent of the public wants her to resign. according to polls.

The opposition Labour Party scored a resounding victory over Mrs. Thatcher's Conservative Patry in Thursday's local elections. But only 16 per cent of Conservative lawmakers interviewed Friday and Saturday said they wanted Mrs. Thatcher to retire before the next general election, the Independent on Sunday reported.

In a similar poll on March 10, the newspaper had found that 24 per cent of the Conservatives in parliament thought the prime The improvement in Mrs.

Australia probes train crash that killed 6, injured over 100

SYDNEY (AP) — Authorities said Monday they were investigating the possibility of braketampering on a train that was smashed in the rear by another, resulting in at least six deaths and more than 100 injuries. Rescue teams continued cutting at the wreckage of a steam train and an inter-urban express, fearing more people were trapped. The crash happened near the hamlet of Brooklyn, 40 kilometres north of Sydney. Police said that of the 106 people injured, six were in critical was hit in the rear by the express, had been set. He said the state rail authority was investigating.

"There is evidence the handoperated brake in the third (passenger) carriage was on." Baird

The inter-urban passenger train with an estimated 100 peostruggled up a steep gradient.

travelling south with about 330 people who had attended a jazz festival in the Hunter Valley, 160 kilometres north of Sydney. "Clearly there was something wrong as to why it didn't get up the hill." Baird said Debris from the two trains was littered for up to 100 metres.

Army rebels tell Aquino to quit, threaten U.S.

highest peak by previous expedi-

trying to pay fine with pennies

Plum dropped the contempt charge and additional fine.

Tampa area after promising and 1,000 machine guns. Castro: Cuba can be another

HAVANA (R) — Cuba's armed forces, battle-tested in Africa. flexed their military muscle in nationwide manoeuvres and President Fidel Castro said Cuba would be another "Vietnam or worse" for the United States if it tried to attack.

The mobilisation of forces on the Communist-ruled island has gathered momentum since Wednesday, when the govern-ment launched the "Cuban Shield" exercise to counter what it said was the threat posed by three major U.S. military manoeuvres being held simultaneously in the Caribbean.

The Yankee manoeuvre is an opportunity for us to hold our own exercise." Castro said in a visit to a military command post

The Cuban mobilisation of regular military forces, reservists and militia appeared to be one of the biggest since the 1962 missile crisis when Washington protested over Soviet missile bases on the island, Havana-based diplomats said. Castro told reporters at the Havana command post: "We are preparing ourselves so that what happened to the Yankees in Vietnam --- or worse --- can happen

bere." Washington said Friday that the U.S. exercises — "Ocean Venture." "Global Shield" and Describing the Cuban exercise as extensive. Castro said it was alert 100 times than to be caught once by a surprise U.S. attack. fiercely criticised Castro's government for refusing to follow political reforms in Eastern Europe and change the island's one-party Communist system.

Across Cuba at the weekend, firing ranges crackled to the sound of automatic arms fire as civilians in the militia uniform of green trousers and blue shirts received weapons training from Cubans from 17-year-old youths to 65-year-old grandmothers put on black camouflage paint, crawled through assault courses and learned how to shoot and throw hand grenades.

Mexicans to fight help poor

The total number of people arrested was unclear. A U.S. television network reported Sunday that associates of Escobar have been trying to buy and protect human rights. Stinger anti-aircraft missiles and appeared in the 16th century, and the tens of thousands who lisbeatified three 16th-century Indian children killed for converting to Christianity, a man who claimed to have seen the Madonna in 1531 and a 19th-century priest who founded a religious order to help the poor.

"We are living through crucial moments for the future of this dear country as well as for this Latin American continent," the Pontiff said at the airport as President Carlos Salinas de Gortari welcomed him on his second trip to the country he first visited in 1979.

The Pope said all Mexicans had to work together to overcome the hard times brought on by economic problems, including widespread under-employment and the developing world's secondlargest foreign debt.

MANILA (Agencies) — Philippine army rebels trying to overthrow President Corazon Aquino said Monday they had corrected mistakes made in previous coup attempts and were now confident of success.

Rightwing rebel leader Gregorio Honasan, a cashiered army colonel, warned the United States against intervening again to save Aquino. "We have several plans to deal with them (the U.S.), including the use of extreme measures. Honasan said in an interview published in the Philippine daily Newsday. The special warfare expert did not explain what be meant by extreme measures, nor did he hint when the next putsch was likely. He said the last attempt to remove Aquino in December failed because "the Americans intervened, we had extra luggage, we had poor communications and we relied on the wrong people."

"We have corrected most of our mistakes and we are confident we will make it next time," Honasan, 42, was quoted as Aquino asked for U.S. help last December when around 3,000 troops led by Honasan attempted to oust her by taking over the business district and several military camps in Manila. Although U.S. planes did not attack the rebels, they flew repeated intimidation flights over the Philippine capital, turning the tide in Aquino's favour by preventing rebel planes taking off.

training in a camp on the main island of Luzon and had other camps in the central and southern

Honasan said he had 1,000 men

office in a 1986 "people power" revolt inspired by a mutiny that Honasan helped lead, must resign for the good of the country. "There's chaos, anarchy, dis-

He blamed persistent power shortages, rising inflation and law and order problems on a "lead-

"Mrs. Aquino is only pretending that she is running the government by delivering carefully crafted speeches and by issuing ncoherent orders."

incompetence and said rebel forces just wanted to grab power. She said rightwing army rebels who have mounted six attempts to oust her in the past four years

She said the 21-year-old Communist insurgency was heading for collapse because of waning support while the capture of a number of coup leaders has burled from a car in a commercial district in the Philippine capital at dawn Monday, injuring three bystanders and slightly damaging a bank, police said. They said they had made no arrests and were still trying to find out the motive for the blasts. There have been several bomb

Gregorio Honasan

two Filipinos suspected of killing a United States Marine last week but doubt remained over whether Communist guerrillas were re-

Officials released no information on whether Angeles and Burke were believed to be members of the New People's Army

No one has claimed responsibility for the killing of Fredette, who was on temporary duty here from the Marine Air Station at El Toro, California. He was fatally

Police Lt.-Col. MacArthur Torres said witnesses had identified the two suspects, Reynato Angeles, 33. and William Burke. 24, as the killers of gunnery Sgt. John Fredette, 34. But both men, identified as drug addicts, denied involvement Fredette's killers.

Defence Department civilians and military dependents .at Subic Bay and five other U.S. bases in the Philippines after the killing. Military officials said the res-> rebels were responsible for the killing. Police initially speculated the killers were Communist rebels. Robbery did not appear the motive because Fredette's watch and the rebels were not involved and that Fredette was either killed by mistake or as part of a drug deal. Police sources, speaking on condition of anonymity, said some senior officials still suspected the killers were NPA thorities were eager to exonerate the rebels so the navy would lift restrictions on its personnel. The economies of Olongapo and Angeles, home of Clark Air Base, depend heavily on spending by off-duty troops.

Manila. Torres said two witnesses saw the suspects at the crime scene at the time of the attack. Torres said the murder weapon - believed to be a .38-caliber pistoi - was not found.

Conservatives 34 per cent, the Thatcher's standing among rankcentrist Liberal Democrats 8 per and-file lawmakers in her party "mister minister." Viewers were cent, the Greens 4 per cent and may reflect relief that the defeat treated to soft-focus shots of vaother parties 7 per cent. No marin last week's local elections was rious bald heads, beards and pot gin of error was given for the not worse. Opinion polls had bellies accompanied by soft music survey, conducted by National predicted a shift of nearly 20 per to help them make their choice. Opinion Polls. cent of the popular vote from the Runaway winner was Peter-Tories to Labour since the 1987 Michael Diestel, 38, the suave. The Independent on Sunday election. It turned out to be 11 dark-haired interior minister and poll found that 70 of the 100 wmakers queried wanted Mrs. deputy premier, with shaggybearded Foreign Minister Markus Thatcher to stay, and 72 said they Another poil, published Sun-Meckel coming in second. "It would have been nice to be voted believed the elections had day in the Mail, showed thast 64 strengthened her hand. The views per cent of voters want Mrs. best, or most active, minister, but of Conservative members of the Thatcher to step down following I'm quite happy to accept this House of Commons are crucial the elections. But the poll found because they elect the leader of title too," a slightly bewildered that Labour's lead over the Con-Diestel told television reporters servatives had dropped to 13 per 2 Norweigans walk to North Pole OSLO (R) — Two Norwegians unaided to the North Pole after ple on board was travelling south completing an 800-kilometre New South Wales Transport trek over Arctic ice from Canato Sydney from the city of Newda, an expedition spokesman said Minister Bruce Baird said it was castle when it slammed into the Sunday night. At least 13 pro possible an emergency brake on rear of the steam train as it vious attempts to reach the pole the steam train, which had been without belp from dogs, ponies, trying to pick up speed before it The steam train also was snowscooters, powered baots or

FBI arrests drug cartel members in Stinger plot MIAMI (Agencies) - FBI undercover agents he would pro-

ple in a plot to buy Stinger anti-aircraft missiles for Colombia's Medellin drug cartel, federal officials said. Several people were arrested in Miami over the weekend in an undercover operation, said a law enforcement official in Washington. He spoke Sunday on condution of anonymity.

agents have arrested several peo-

The suspects said they were working for reputed cartel leader Pablo Escobar, who is wanted by U.S. authorities on drug-trafficking charges, the source said. The missiles never changed hands, the source said. A man was arrested in the million for 100 Stinger missiles

'Vietnam or worse' for U.S.

"Defex" - were routine and not aimed against Cuba.

> better for the island to go on the President Geroge Bush has > military instructors.

Pope urges corruption,

MEXICO CITY (R) - Pope John Paul urged Mexicans to fight corruption, help the poor He was speaking in Mexico's holiest shrine Sunday, the first day of a gruelling 10-city tour. "You cannot remain indifferent before the suffering of your brothers, before poverty, corruption, and before outrages to the truth and to human rights," he said in the ultra-modern Basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe, Latin

America's most popular shrine. The Pope did not elaborate on his comments made before some 11,000 people inside the basilica, built on the spot where the Madonna is said to have

tened to the ceremony outside. During the ceremony the Pope

He urged Mexicans to build "a more just, fraternal and hospitable society... you must bring about a growing solidarity among all Mexicans... a decisive commitment for the common good."

He said Aquino, swept to unity, injustice and there's rampant graft and corruption," he ership vacuum."

Aquino, in a radio broadcast Sunday, rejected accusations of were "suffering from an ideological identity crisis," and may link up with Communist guerrillas in their attempt to topple her govemment.

weakened the rightwing rebels. Meanwhile two grenades were and grenade attacks in Manila in recent weeks but no group has claimed responsibility for them. In a separate development, police said Monday they arrested and some military officers said they doubted the two were

(NPA) or assassins hired by the Communist guerrilla group.

wounded late Friday in Olongapo, a town near the U.S.-run Subic Bay Naval Base. The U.S. military banned offpost leaves for the 40,000 troops, triction had not been lifted after Merchants in Olongapo complained that their businesses were being hurt by the ban on off-post leaves and by speculation that the wallet were not taken, police On Sunday, however, police commanders said they believed guerrillas. The sources said civilian au-

Police said no one saw the actual shooting. But in a report to national police headquarters in المتناس لاص